THE WEIGHT OF THE WORLD

A cluster of more than 30 panting New Games enthusiasts reach their hands skyward to support a massive, bouncing earthball. The pack moved around the Gerbode Preserve near Sausalito Saturday and yesterday heaving the globe-painted sphere into the air, and then standing firm to loft it up again when it came crashing down. The New Games Tournament concludes next weekend. See story, page 18. (Photo by Alfred M. Arn)

Justice Department Ruled Guilty Of Illegal Wiretaps

Supreme Court Decision Affects Many Arrests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, in an action probably meaning acquittal for hundreds of criminal defendants, ruled unanimously today that the Justice Department consistently violated federal wiretap law while John N. Mitchell was attorney general.

The 9-0 decision hinged on an interpretation of the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1968, which lays down specific procedures for making application to a trial judge for a wiretap order.

Affected by the ruling are narcotics and gambling prosecutions against hundreds of persons in various courts, which have been upheld pending a final decision on the wiretap procedures.

One of the test cases involved narcotics charges against Dominic Nicholas Giordano and 13 co-defendants in Baltimore.

The Justice Department had told the Court about 1,430 persons were involved in the various cases.

Justice Byron R. White wrote opinions in two highly complex cases. The Justice Department won in one of the cases but lost in the other — the one holding unanimously that many of the wiretaps were handled illegally by Mitchell's subordinates.

The Court held that the department did not err in authorizing U.S. attorneys in the field to set up wiretaps.

In other actions, the Court:

Let stand a lower court decision allowing the FBI to keep secret its files on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, which author Harold Weisberg had sought under the Freedom of Information Act.

Blocked an order which would have required the Chicago Transit Authority to accept "Impeach Nixon" advertising on its buses.

Let stand a lower court ruling that Rhode Island's amended anti-abortion law is unconstitutional. The statute said the fetus is a person from the moment of conception.

Agreed to decide if a federal judge can immediately sentence persons for contempt when they refuse to testify at a trial even after receiving immunity from prosecution.

In cases involving sex discrimination, dismissed a challenge to Virginia's law allowing alimony only for women; refused to hear a coed's complaint that Eastern Kentucky University's dormitory curfew discriminates against women; and let stand a decision that the Air Line Stewards Association did not properly represent 600 airline stewardesses protesting their discharge because of pregnancy.

In the wiretap case, the Justice Department argued that, at worst, it had committed "harmless error" in its procedures and had not endangered anyone's privacy.

The statute requires authorization by the U.S. attorney general himself or a "specially designated" assistant attorney general. Many of Mitchell's authorizations were issued by his executive assistant, Sol Lindenbaum.

A second issue focused on what have become known as "Will Wilson letters" —wiretap permissions to U.S. attorneys in the field which former Assistant Attorney General Will Wilson was obliged under law to sign. Instead they were signed by deputies.

The department won on the second issue.

The challenged practices, which were carried on in 1969 and 1970, have been discontinued.

The department originally told the court about 1,430 persons are involved in a series of cases awaiting today's decisions.

White said "plainly enough, the executive assistant is neither the attorney general nor a specially designated assistant attorney general."

He rejectedthe government's argument that the law vests all of the Justice Department's functions in the attorney general, who then delegates them appropriately.

White said as a general proposition, the argument is "unexceptionable." But he said in this particular case the law is specific.

Albert Sees Impeachment As The Preferred Course

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Speaker Carl Albert said today he would not suggest to President Nixon that he resign. It is better, Albert said, that the President undergo the constitutional process of impeachment.

Asked if he thought it would be better for the country for Nixon to resign or to undergo the impeachment process, Albert said he believed it was better "for the constitutional process to run its course."

"I have never suggested the President should resign," Albert said. "I don't believe he will."

Albert told reporters said he would "have nothing to do with" mounting congressional pressures on Nixon to resign and said he thought the President should go ahead with his planned summit trip to Moscow next month.

Despite new public opinion polls showing more Americans favor Nixon leaving office than ever before, the President was pictured as determined to ride out the Watergate storm.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren declined comment on the polls except to restate the White House position that "it is very difficult to comment on polls in a confused situation, except to say that polls change ad they can move in one way or another."

A new Louis Harris poll showed 49 per cent of those interviewed favored Nixon's removal, compared to 41 per cent who didn't. The Yankovich organization found in a poll for Time magazine that 53 per cent were for removal and 38 per cent against, and the Roper organization reported a margin of 53 per cent to 33 per cent for impeachment or resignation.

Nixon lost more support during the weekend among some major newspapers that previously backed him, as the Providence (R.I.) Journal, the Sacramento (Calif.) Bee and the Charlotte (N.C.) Observer called for his resignation.

But Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Saturday it was improper for his fellow Republicans to press Nixon to resign, and Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., likened GOP senators who have called for Nixon's resignation to members of a trial jury who are "not supposed to make a judgment unless he has seen the sworn testimony."

Golden Gate Recreation Area Power Struggle Breaks Forth

By JEFF GREER

A power struggle, and a warning that development of Golden Gate National Recreation Area will take a long time, marked the first business session of the GGNRA Citizens Advisory Commission on Saturday. (Another advisory commission story, page 9.)

The power struggle turned on the question of whether the commission is fairly independent of the National Park Service and has a direct line to Congress or is entirely subordinate to the secretary of the interior and must operate through the park service bureaucracy.

Some commissioners argued for a measure of independence. The recreation area's superintendent, William J. Whalen, with the agreement of other commissioners, argued otherwise.

Whalen also told the gathering at Tamalpais High School that although Congress has been open-handed with money to buy land, it may be years before development funds are available. In any case, there is much planning to be done before that money will be needed, he said.

But Rep. Philip Burton, D-San Francisco, one of the principal authors of legislation creating the recreation area, pledged to help in Congress on both the funding and commission powers.

"We're a new kid in the block" when it comes to obtaining funds for planning and development, said Whalen. The federal budgeting process provides only a lump sum for such activities throughout the National Park Service. Service officials then assign priorities to all the national park and recreation facilities nationwide. "Yosemite has been trying for 10 years" to obtain funds for new planning and development, he noted.

Glen Hendricks, director of the National Park Service's nationwide planning and budgeting center in Denver, wouldn't give specific answers when Commissioner William Thomas of San Francisco repeatedly asked how much money for GGNRA planning and development had been asked in the fiscal 1974-75 budget now before Congress.

Hendricks did say the service could handle only about $1.5 million worth of planning and research work on the recreation area during the next year, if the money were available.

Throughout the day there was repeated debate on commission power. Commissioner William Thomas, who helped write the GGNRA legislation in Washington, and Commissioner Edgar Wayburn insisted that the bills creating the GGNRA panel give it broader powers.

But Whalen said the commission is purely advisory to the National Park Service and to Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton, who appointed its 15 members. "This commission is the secretary's commission," he said, and it should not try to

Demonstrators Taunt Kissinger

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Taunted by a chorus of protesting demonstrators, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger held the first of two meetings with Israeli leaders today on bridging the negotiating gap with Syria over a military disengagement for the Golan Heights.

U.S. officials with Kissinger put chances of reaching an agreement at about 50-50, but in Washington White House officials said Kissinger was on the verge of a Middle East breakthrough and hinted a Syrian-Israeli troop separation accord might come this week. Israel was less optimistic.

"We are hopeful that a disengagement agreement can be reached between the two parties," presidential spokesman Gerald L. Warren said. He declined to characterize chances for such an agreement.

He said Nixon, working in his hideaway office next door to the White House, "has followed with great interest the cables from Secretary Kissinger and has sent further guidance and instructions to the secretary as his talks have proceeded."

Kissinger was in Jerusalem conferring with Israeli leaders today.

Warren said Nixon had turned his attention from the impeachment controversy in Congress to focus on foreign policy and domestic issues.

The Israeli cabinet met for four hours after a one-hour session between Kissinger, Mrs. Meir and their aides. A communique said the cabinet reviewed Kissinger's efforts.

Magee Asks To Withdraw Plea Of Guilty On Kidnaping Charge

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Ruchell Magee, one-time co-defendant with Angela Davis, today asked a judge to withdraw his guilty plea in a kidnap case resulting from the 1970 Marin County Civic Center Shootout.

Superior Court Judge William A. Ingram said he would listen to Magee's arguments, but said the San Quentin convict will have to prove that he did not freely and willingly plead guilty last week.

Miss Davis, a former UCLA faculty member, was found innocent of murder charges in the shooting incident at the Marin County Civic Center in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three others were killed.

Last Friday Magee, after lengthy pretrial proceedings, told the judge he wanted to plead guilty and said he did so freely and willingly.

Today when he came into court for sentencing, the judge asked him if he were prepared for his sentence and Magee answered:

"No, your honor. I would like to enter a writ of prohibition and ask the court to withdraw the plea on grounds it was illegally accepted."

He said he made the guilty plea "under conditions of harassment and intimidation" and not freely.

Ingram said he would listen to Magee in a hearing Wednesday but noted that Magee had "freely and voluntarily" made his guilty plea, that there was "factual basis" for the plea and that he had surrendered his rights to be presumed innocent, and therefore must prove that he was under duress when he pleaded guilty.

Public prosecutor Timothy Reardon objected to further arguments about the matter, contending that Magee was "making a circus" out of the proceedings.

Magee, who has a long record of courtroom antics, including violence, has repeatedly rejected attorneys assigned to his defense, insisting they are part of a conspiracy to keep him in prison.

After the hearing, Frank Katz, of the public defender's office, said he would ask a federal court to take over the Magee case.

Souvenir Brochures Are Available

Any organization wishing San Rafael Centennial souvenir program brochures for distribution to its members may arrange for the required number of copies by calling the centennial office at San Rafael City Hall, publicity chairman Bryce W. Anderson, announced today.

The brochures are available at the city hall, San Rafael Senior Citizen Center, San Rafael and Marin County libraries, Terra Linda Recreation Center, and several banks and commercial houses. They are free.

Service Workers Strike Stanford

STANFORD (UPI) — Technical and service workers at Stanford University went on strike today, disrupting food service and several construction projects.

Classes for the university's 12,000 students were carried on as usual.

About 1,400 employees of the university are represented by the United Stanford Employees, an AFL-CIO affiliated union.

Danish Government Target Of Protest

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Tens of thousands of workers today staged mass walkouts and held a huge rally outside parliament where they demanded the resignation of Prime Minister Poul Hartling's Liberal minority government because of its economic policies.

Police said the anti-government manifestation was the biggest in Denmark since the general strike in 1956 when 75,000 workers gathered outside the government building in a similar demonstration.

WARM NIXON WELCOME

President Richard Nixon found a very friendly crowd of 25,000 at commencement exercises at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater Saturday. The President, who spoke at the commencement, encountered only a few protestors in the crowd of thousands. One had a sign which said "Dump Dick" on the top of his cap.

Hijacker Killed, Others Captured —Colombia In Get-Tough Stance

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Colombia, hit by more airplane hijackings than any other Latin American country, has apparently adopted a new "get tough" policy of refusing to give in to any demands by air pirates.

In the policy's first test, police karate experts disguised as reserve crew members went aboard a commandeered passenger jet Saturday afternoon, killing one hijacker and capturing two others. All passengers and crew were safe.

A total of 20 commercial aircraft have been hijacked in Colombia over the past seven years. Most of them went to Cuba.

When the latest hijackers, armed with pistols, knives and two home-made bombs, seized an Avianca airlines Boeing 727 Friday night on a local flight from Pereira in central Colombia to Bogota, the government of President Misael Pastrana Borrero, which has only three more months in office, was quick to state its position:

"The government will not negotiate under threats, pressure or blackmail," said Rafael Naranjo Villegas, secretary general of the presidency.

He refused to budge when the hijackers forced the plane around several Colombian cities and raised their ransom demands from $320,000 to $400,000, threatening to blow up the plane and everyone aboard unless they were given the money and safe passage to Cuba.

Naranjo Villegas said Colombia's law enforcement authorities had full authority to end the caper any way they saw fit.

When the police karate experts went aboard in crew uniforms 17 hours after the piracy began, the hijackers were still holding 88 passengers and crewmen hostage —30 others had been let off at an intermediate stop. Two hijackers were overpowered with swift chops to various parts of the body and a third was shot dead in a hail of bullets when he tried to escape by clearing himself a path with gunfire.

The dead man was identified as Carlos Arturo Tavares, 25. In n custody were Jorge Hernando Avila Campos, 31, and Pedro Julio Rodriguez Hernandez, 24.

Police denied press reports that a fourth hijacker had escaped or was also killed in the shoot-out.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Giscard d'Estaing Boosts Lead

PARIS (UPI) — Conservative Valery Giscard d'Estaing widened his lead over leftist Francois Mitterrand today in a public opinion poll on the outcome of France's runoff presidential race.

d'Estaing

A poll published by the conservative newspaper Le Figaro said Giscard d'Estaing would receive 51.5 per cent of the vote and Mitterrand 48.5 in next Sunday's vote.

The poll increased the edge of Giscard d'Estaing, the current finance minister, over Mitterrand, head of France's Socialist party, by one percentage point since a previous projection in the newspaper.

Political analysts said the gain seemed to reflect a shift in Giscard d'Estaing's favor after last Friday's two-hour, nation-wide television confrontation with Mitterrand.

Irish Ambush

BELFAST (UPI) — Three gunmen opened fire on a militia patrol on a country road south of Belfast today but caused no injuries and fled. Security officials said violence may switch from Belfast to Northern Ireland's rural areas.

Officials said the ambush on the patrol of the part-time Ulster Defense Regiment occurred near Dundrum village, 25 miles south of Belfast. The gunmen hit the patrol vehicle several times and fled in a small automobile, they said.

Security officials said with the capture Friday of the Provisional Irish Republican Army's Belfast commander, his top aides appear to have fled the city and taken to the hills.

They said they were on alert for violent IRA retaliation for his arrest.

Defense Chief

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Information Minister Shimon Peres will succeed Moshe Dayan as defense minister in a proposed new government based on a narrow, one-vote majority in Israel's parliament, political sources said today.

The sources said Yitzhak Rabin, seeking to succeed Golda Meir as prime minister, will submit his cabinet lineup to the policy-making central committee of his Labor party tomorrow.

New President

LISBON (UPI) — Gen. Antonio de Spinola, head of the military junta that toppled a right-wing dictatorship 18 days ago, will be named provisional president Wednesday, the same day a provisional government will be announced, according to the newspaper Diario Popular.

Political party sources said the government, which will be in office for a year to prepare for national elections, would include three ministers without portfolio, one from each of the major parties — Socialist, Communist and Democrat.

The ministers will be Mario Soares of the Socialists, Alvaro Cunhal of the Communists and Francisco da Carneiro of the Democrats.

Minesweeping

CAIRO (UPI) — The U.S. Navy's amphibious assault ship Inchon has arrived in Egyptian territorial waters to launch its second minesweeping operation in two years.

The Inchon, which took part in mine clearance work around North Vietnam in 1973, will replace its sister ship Iwo Jima as a base for Suez Canal demining efforts, a U.S. spokesman said.

Peace Talks Hit

SAIGON (UPI) — Six years to the day after the first Vietnam peace negotiations, South Vietnam said today more meetings at the conference table "will not solve anything."

Government spokesmen Bui Bao Truc said peace depends solely on the actions of the Viet Cong and North Vietnam.

"Peace and the cease-fire are matters that exist or not depending on the Communists," Truc said. "So long as the Communists consider the peace agreement as a mere piece of paper, or as a break for recuperation of their forces, any meeting will not solve anything."

Rebel Pressure

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist insurgents tightened their pressure today on the provincial capital of Kompong Thom where a ground attack forced airport officials early yesterday to wave off a plane carrying Prime Minister Long Boret just after it touched down.

Long Boret did not get off the plane and his visit was canceled.

Military sources said initial reports showed six civilians killed when rebel forces opened the offensive against the town, 102 miles northwest of Phnom Penh, and shelled the huge refugee camp nearby.

Khadafy Snubbed

CAIRO (UPI) — Egypt today publicly snubbed Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy in a further deepening of the 10 month-old rift between the two countries.

An Egyptian government spokesman rejected "in both form and substance" two messages Khadafy addressed to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat yesterday.

The spokesman accused the Libyan leadership of inconsistency and indicated that Sadat would not have consented to meet Libyan Prime Minister Maj. Abdel Salam Jalloud in Cairo yesterday if Cairo had known the contents of Khadafy's messages.

Indian Strike

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government appeared determined today to break a six-day-old nationwide rail strike that has dealt a staggering blow to the Indian economy.

Movement of trains improved during the weekend while the number of strikers and their union leaders arrested and jailed by the government soared to more than 10,000.

Civilians Killed

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Lebanese Defense Ministry announced in Beirut that six Israeli Phantom fighter-bombers attacked farming communities six miles inside Lebanon today killing several civilians. There also was heavy Israeli-Syrian fighting in the Golan Heights for the 63rd day.

A communique issued in Beirut said four civilians were killed in the attack on the village of Kfeir. They included a mother and her two children, 6 months and 8 years. Another five children between 2 and 8 were reported wounded, some seriously.

Skopje Quake

BELGRADE (UPI) — A tremor last night shook the southern Yugoslav city of Skopje, scene of a devasting earthquake more than 10 years ago. Most residents fled their homes in panic but there were no reports of injury or damage.

The official Tanjug news agency said the tremor registered between 5 and 6 on the 12-point Mercali scale.

$1 Million In Damage; 4 Die In Storm

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Tornados hit Florida, Georgia and South Carolina yesterday, killing at least four persons and causing nearly $1 million in damages.

Georgia was hardest hit. All four who died lived there. At least 18 others were injured when a tornado struck trailer home parks in Glennville and Savannah.

One person was hurt in Florida and another in South Carolina, and the National Weather Service issued tornado warnings for parts of North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Civil defense spokesmen estimated damage at $500,000 in South Carolina and at least $200,000 in Georgia. There was no immediate damage estimate for the Florida area, but several frame houses and a number of mobile homes were either destroyed or damaged.

Report Of Blindfold In Kidnap

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Randolph A. Hearst said yesterday he was not surprised by reports that his daughter may have been blindfolded while staying at a hideout used by the Symbionese Liberation Army.

"I've known she was taken against her will since the very beginning," said Hearst, editor and president of the San Francisco Examiner. "It was not surprising that they'd find a blindfold or anything else."

He was referring to an unconfirmed story printed in the Chicago Tribune which said a dog trained to follow Miss Hearst's scent went directly to a blindfold made of sponges in an apartment abandoned by the SLA two weeks ago.

Charles Bates, the FBI man in charge of the investigation into SLA activities, refused to comment on the story, but he said the trail of the terrorist group "has never been completely cold."

The apartment which investigators say the SLA used for five weeks was located only 15 minutes from a bank which the group robbed of $10,960 on April 15.

The Chicago Tribune quoted unnamed sources as saying the bloodhound going to the blindfold "would seem to indicate Miss Hearst is still not fully trusted by her kidnapers, despite proclamations that she has turned her back on her family and joined the SLA."

Three Boy Scouts Due Eagle Rank

Raymond W. Clement of San Rafael and L. Scott Weiss of Kentfield will receive eagle scout awards in Scout Troop 72 court of honor May 31 at Aldersgate Methodist Church, San Rafael, and David M. Yoffie of San Rafael will be honored at Troop 38 court Saturday at St. Luke's Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

Clement is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Clement Jr.; Weiss is the son of Lane E. Weiss and Yoffie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norwin S. Yoffie.

Clement, 14, has been active in scouting for five years. He is a freshman at Terra Linda High School where he is active in debate and forensic societies and band activities. He was a leader of Order of the Arrow Senior Patrol and attended the 1973 Scout Jamboree in Idaho where he twice won the mile swim award and the 20 mile hike.

His eagle scout project was working at Nazareth House assisting the residents and keeping the grounds.

Weiss, 16, has been in scouting for four years and also participated in the Scout Jamboree. He is a member of the leadership corps of the Order of the Arrow. Weiss is a sophomore at Redwood High School and was a junior varsity football player. He is also interested in tennis and backpacking. For his eagle project, Weiss worked with the National Lung Association during Christmas passing out posters and information to Central Marin businesses.

Yoffie, 14, has been a scout for five years and has been former troop scribe, patrol leader and assistant patrol leader. He is currently senior patrol leader. He also attended the national Jamboree last year.

A freshman at San Rafael High School, Yoffie is a member of the water polo team and the swim team. His interests include swimming, sailing, reading, hiking and backpacking. Yoffie is an Independent-Journal newspaperboy.

For his eagle project, Yoffie spent two summers as a volunteer in the San Rafael Recreational Swimming program to prepare for work with handicapped children at the Terra Linda Recreation Center. He received the Junior Red Cross Lifesaving and Water Safety Aide Award.

Birth Control Measures For Dogs Are Urged

CHICAGO (UPI) — A Chicago alderman is advocating mandatory birth control measures for the city's dogs.

"The essence of our dog problem is population control," Alderman Burton F. Natarus said Thursday.

He said he will introduce an ordinance in the City Council later this month to make mandatory the spaying and neutering of dogs in public and private animal shelters.

Natarus said he will also encourage private dog owners to have their dogs sterilized.

Sterilization, said Natarus, is better than killing dogs by the decompression chamber method, and would also be a boon to public health and safety.

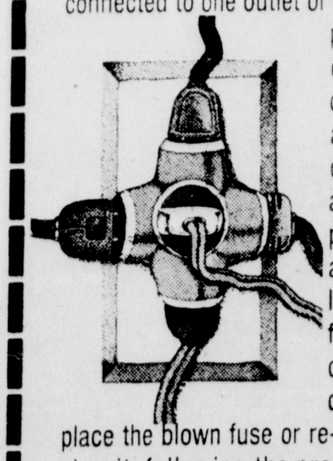
Put these tips and some spare fuses near your fuse box.

With a flashlight, they may help should your lights go out.

Be Prepared. Know where your fuse boxes or circuit breakers are located. Locate the main switch box—usually near the spot where the PG&E electric service wires connect to your house, or near your PG&E electric meter. Locate any additional box or boxes—usually in a closet or utility room. Keep spare fuses handy.

Check the Neighbors. If your lights should go out, check to see if other homes in your neighborhood have lights. If the power is off in your home only, you may have a blown fuse or tripped circuit breaker.

Determine the Cause. Blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers are often caused by having too many lamps or appliances connected to one outlet or circuit. Another possibility is a defective cord on a lamp or appliance. To check, unplug all lamps or appliances on the affected circuit, looking for defective plugs or cords while doing so. Replace the blown fuse or re-set the tripped circuit, following the procedures given below. Then plug each lamp or appliance back in. A defective one will cause the fuse to blow, or circuit breaker to trip, again.



To Replace a Fuse. First turn the main switch to "OFF." Make sure that your hands are dry and that you are standing on a dry surface. Look for the "blown" fuse: the "window" may be blackened, or there may be a visible gap in the fuse element. Replace the blown fuse with one of the proper amperage rating, usually one of not more than 15-20 amps. (Your electrician can tell you.) Never use a penny or other metal object to "bridge" the blown fuse, as this could cause a house fire. Turn the main switch to "ON." If only part of the lights in the house come on, this may indicate that a fuse in a secondary fuse box has also blown. Check these fuses in the same way you checked the fuses at the main switch. Be sure the main switch is "OFF" while you are changing fuses.

Cartridge Fuses. You won't be able to visually tell exactly which cartridge fuse is blown. In this case, test by replacing each fuse with a new one until you find the blown fuse. A tripped circuit breaker will probably be out of the "ON" position.

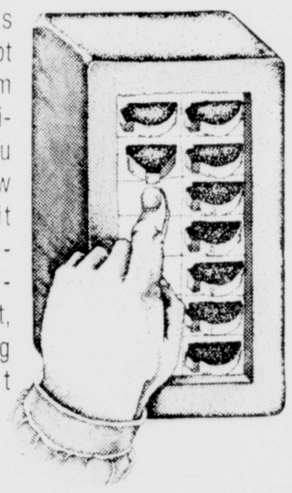
To Reset a Circuit Breaker. Move the affected circuit breaker handle all the way to the "OFF" position (for some circuit breakers, a moderate pressure in the "OFF" direction is necessary to cause them to reset). Then, move the handle to the "ON" position. If the affected circuit breaker does not indicate that it has tripped (its handle has not moved from the "ON" position), and you do not know which circuit breaker controls the affected circuit, try resetting all circuit breakers.



Some Added Safety Tips. Never plug in radios near bathtubs or basins. Never wash coffee pots or frying pans while they are still plugged in. Make sure that electric tools are properly grounded (with a 3-prong plug), or are of the U.L. approved "double-insulated" type. When you unplug an appliance, pull the plug—not the cord.

Still in the Dark? If you've followed all of these procedures and you're still in the dark, don't hesitate to call PG&E. We'll be happy to help.

Petaluma Girl Winner Of Dairy Princess Title

Carmen Marie Guillett of Petaluma was named the 1974 District 3 Dairy Princess Saturday at a ball in the Petaluma Veterans Memorial Building.

The 17-year-old Petaluma High School Senior, whose interests include tennis, swimming and horseback riding, will represent Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Lake and Solano counties at a state pageant June 18-21 at the Hollywood Paladium.

The District 3 princess is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Guillett of 11 Webster Street, Petaluma.

Miss Guillett plans to attend Sonoma State College this fall, majoring in elementary education. She is a six-year member of the Wilson 4-H Club and has served as its president.

Joyce Cummings, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cummings of 642 Trumbull Road, Novato, was selected first alternate princess.

CARMEN MARIE GUILLETT
Dairy Princess

Nineteen-year old Virginia Marie Lunny was named Miss Vitality. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Lunny of the RCA Ranch in Inverness.

Janice Touchstone, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude touchstone of 1506 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, received a $100 scholarship donated by the North Bay Dairy Women's Association.

The contest is sponsored by the California Milk Advisory Board, the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce and the North Bay Dairy Women.

Cory Would Keep Posts As Elective

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill which would keep the offices of county auditor-controller and treasurer-tax collector as elected positions has been introduced by Assemblyman Kenneth Corty, D-Garden Grove.

The bill, known as AB4353, would prohibit county boards of supervisors from attempting to change the positions to appointive jobs.

Currently, county supervisors can submit the matter to voters. Cory's bill, if enacted, would prevent them from doing so. Marin supervisors have never attempted to place the matter before voters.

The bill declares that the "right of the people to elect officials to the county offices of auditor, treasurer and tax collector should be preserved.

"To preserve this right, it is the intent of the legislature to prohibit county boards of supervisors from taking action to replace (these) offices . . . with appointive officers."

Seminary Adds To Music Staff

Max Lyall, concert pianist and assistant professor of music at Belmont College in Nashville, Tenn., has been named assistant professor of church music at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry.

Lyall, who will move to Mill Valley in the fall, is the accompanist for "The Centurymen" choral group and has been piano and harpsichord soloist with the Nashville Little Symphony, Nashville Symphony String Quartet, Nashville Chamber Orchestra and Nashville Pro Musica.

The seminary will begin a master of church music degree program this fall.

Talk Scheduled On Understanding Tests

The Marin Association for Gifted Children will discuss "Understanding Test Results" at a public meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the library of Davidson Middle School, San Rafael.

Vern Dahl, director of testing for Westinghouse Learning Corp. in Sunnyvale, will be the guest speaker. Directors of the association for the coming year also will be elected.

Annex Session

A citizens committee seeking annexation of Rafael Meadows to the City of San Rafael will meet with county officials at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Civic Center, according to Mrs. Marrita Ronconi of 219 Mirada Drive.

Highway Lanes To Be Shut

Paving operations on Highway 101 in the Terra Linda area will necessitate closing lanes of the highway tomorrow and Wednesday, according to the state Department of Transportation.

Tomorrow the northbound middle lane from north of the Forbes overhead to the Highway Patrol weigh station will be closed from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

On Wednesday the northbound outside lane on the same stretch of the highway will be closed from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. In addition, the northbound Civic Center on-ramp will be closed from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and the northbound Freitas Parkway off-ramp from 8 a.m. to noon.

Warning signs and flagmen will warn motorists of the closings.

The work will not be done unless the weather is fair, according to state officials.

Stabbed Inmate Is Critical

Jose Ortiz, 25-year-old San Quentin inmate, reported in the Independent Journal on Saturday to have died of stab wounds, actually remains alive but in critical condition, prison officials said today.

The report of his death was due to a misunderstanding of information furnished Saturday by prison officials.

Another man, James Charles, 43, sent to prison from San Diego and San Francisco counties, died Friday in the prison hospital of cancer.

Oritz has remained in critical condition since being stabbed 11 times on April 2 in what was apparently prison gang violence.

Bolinas Company To Present Program

The Bolinas Company will present an adaptation of "The Wind in the Willows" Saturday at 8 p.m. at Bolinas Community Center on Wharf Road. It will be the second in a series of Living Radio programs presented by the group.

The simulated radio broadcast was written and directed by Kathy Stevens and will be narrated by Sandy Stollman. Performers will be William Rafferty, Roy Buckman, Robert Rosas, Sean O'Hara and Betty Storz. Sound effects are by Debbie Cummings.

go outside Interior Department channels to influence Congress.

The friction first cropped up when commissioners suggested their bylaws drafted by Whalen's staff be inspected for legality both by the lawyers for the Interior Department and by Congress's legal advisers. Whelen said the commission could refer the bylaws only to the Interior Department's lawyer.

Commissioners said bylaw restrictions saying they couldn't meet without Whalen's approval and presence, were "a little insulting."

"I'll change it," Burton said in a low voice as he took notes from the sidelines. Commissioner Thomas later told the Independent-Journal that if the park service insists on "such a short leash" on the commission, the bill creating the advisory panel will be amended to clarify its powers.

"I view the citizens committee as having autonomy," Burton said. He added that many persons concerned with creating GGNRA "feel that the commission is advisory to Congress as well as to the Secretary of the Interior."

"I feel like a Yo-Yo," complained Commissioner Daphne Greene of Ross, commenting on the powers dispute.

The federal rules extend even to when the commission can meet. Chairman Frank Boerger of San Anselmo discovered. Whalen advised that the agenda and meeting date must be published in the Federal Register beforehand, requiring about five weeks lead time. The same rules apply to subcommittee sessions, Whalen said.

Turning to planning for the sprawling recreation area, it "is a different kind of place than we've been accustomed to," Hendricks said.

"We are sadly lacking in a basic inventory of everything that exists in GGNRA," he added. The first step in coming months will be to award two contracts to prepare proposed management criteria and design concepts for the eventual use and development plans, Hendricks said. He said he hopes that data-gathering studies can be funded in the next year.

The advisory commission's scope includes not only the 34,000-acre GGNRA authorized by Congress, but also the Point Reyes National Seashore, Muir Woods, and dovetailing the federal lands into state and local open space and recreation efforts, park service officials said.

Whalen added that steps are being taken to combine management of the 120,000 acres in the three federal holdings.

He reported there has been no definite progress on proposals to integrate the state-held Angel Island and other state parks in Marin into federal management. He said meetings are proceeding on takeover of the San Francisco city and county lands written into the recreation area legislation.

The commission split down the middle over adopting bylaws. After two 8-7 votes blocked proposals to submit the bylaws both to the Interior Department lawyers and to Congress's lawyers, the commission agreed to adopt the bylaws, as drafted, for three months. Boerger appointed a bylaws subcommittee to draft revisions. On the committee are Mrs. Meyer Thomas of San Francisco, Richard Barke of El Cerrito and Fred Blumberg of Lafayette.

Candidates Night For Tam Hopefuls

A candidates night featuring hopefuls for the positions of Tamalpais Union High School District trustee, Marin County District Attorney, and Marin County Clerk will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Lagunitas School multi-purpose room.

The gathering is sponsored by the San Geronimo Valley Association.

OBITUARIES

Samuel Rouder Dies At 64

A memorial service will be held Thursday for Samuel Rouder, a retired butcher, who died Saturday in a local hospital after a long illness. He was 64.

The service is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the San Geronimo Valley Presbyterian Church.

Known as "Sam the Butcher" to those patronizing his butcher shop in Ross during the 1950s and 1960s, Rouder was a member of the Butcher's Union, Local 115. Before his retirement four years ago, he worked as meat manager at Guasco Market, San Anselmo.

A native of San Francisco, Rouder was a former resident of San Anselmo, Fairfax, and San Geronimo during his 24-year residence in Marin. He retired to Petaluma.

He was a volunteer fireman in Ross, a member of the Marin Rod and Gun Club, the Petaluma Rod and Gun Club, the Native Sons of the Golden West and Kamloops Unlimited.

He is survived by his wife, Viola Rouder of 5 Co-Linda Drive; two daughters, Susan Hobart of Ross and Anna Johnson of Fairfax; and one grandchild.

Family visitations will be today from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Burial will be at the Two Rock Cemetery, Petaluma.

Memorial gifts to the Marin County Heart Association, the Sonoma County Diabetes Association or the San Geronimo Valley Presbyterian Church memorial fund are preferred.

Recovery Of Plane Still Sought

I-J Special Report

LAKE BERRYESSA — Another attempt was made today to recover the Petaluma-based Piper Cherokee which crashed here Tuesday.

A Napa sheriff's department spokesman said divers and grappling hook operators had no luck during the weekend in recovering the plane, which crashed with two men apparently aboard.

Officials determined late Friday that Barbara Swenson, 24, of Vallejo, was not among the victims as had been feared earlier in the week.

Still missing, and presumably in the plane which lies in 150 feet of water, are pilot Thomas C. Benson, 36, of 49 Holly Heights, Petaluma, and Jeffrey C. Watson, 22, of 25 Octavia Street, San Rafael.

Mother, Son Are Rescued

A Bolinas volunteer fireman was lowered by rope 150 feet down the cliff face at 3:40 p.m. to pull Michael O'Shea and his mother, Kathleen, 30, of 33 Broadmoor Avenue, to safety.

The youngster was stranded about 60 feet up while trying to scale the cliff on Ocean Avenue near Terrace Avenue, according to Bolinas Fire Chief Jose Silva. His mother was trapped when she tried to lead her son to safety. Neither was hurt.

Service Station Permit On Tap

The San Anselmo City Council will consider a use permit for a service station at 700 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

The council will also consider a proposal that San Anselmo be designated as a town rather than a city.

DONALD MILLER

Funeral for Donald Ross Miller, father of Melinda Rihtarshich and Maren Miller of Novato, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Colonial Mortuary of Crosby N. Gray Company in Burlingame.

Miller died Thursday in Puerto Vallarta, Mex.

He is also survived by his wife, Marjorie Miller of Foster City; four other daughters, Melonie Miller of Lake Tahoe, Kimberly Miller of Santa Rosa, and Michelle and Andrea Coudray of Foster City; two sons, Ross Miller of Santa Rosa and Peter Coudray of Foster City; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Miller of Walnut Creek; two sisters, Mrs. Franklin A. Burroughs of Alamo and Mrs. John Castle of Tupelo, Miss., and one grandchild.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the American Heart Association.

D.M. DAVENPORT

Memorial service for Donald Murray Davenport, father of Bret C. Davenport of San Anselmo, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Noble Chapel of Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Davenport, 64, died Friday in a Burlingame hospital after a lengthy illness.

He was a retired vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.

A native of Goldfield, Nev., for the past nine years he had lived in San Mateo.

In addition to his son in San Anselmo, he is survived by his wife, Helga Davenport of San Mateo; a daughter, Anne Bornstein of Walnut Creek; another son, Donald McKinnon Davenport of San Bruno; his brother, Lee Davenport of Berkeley, and one grandchild.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the American Cancer Society.

LULU LARIMORE

Funeral for Lulu J. Larimore, mother of Dorothy Kinkade of Sleepy Hollow, will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Golden Gate National Cemetery chapel in San Bruno.

Mrs. Larimore, 86, died Friday after a lengthy illness.

She was a native of Illinois but had lived for many years in San Jose. About a year ago, she came to Marin to live with her daughter at 30 Van Tassel Court.

Mrs. Larimore worked for many years as a bookeeper for a winery in Santa Clara County.

She was the widow of Newport W. Larimore.

In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Larimore is also survived by her sister, Maude Stewart of San Jose, and three grandchildren.

Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the First Presbyterian Church, 49 North Fourth Street, San Jose.

ESTHER CHERRY

Funeral for Esther G. Cherry of Petaluma will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church in that city.

Mrs. Cherry, 68, died Saturday at a local hospital after a brief illness.

She was born in Kansas and lived in Southern Sonoma 16 years. Mrs. Cherry was a homemaker and a retired school teacher.

She was a past president of the Petaluma Garden Club and a member of the board of deacons at the church.

She is survived by her husband, Frank Cherry of the family home at 1003 G Street; three sons, Michael Cherry of Sacramento, Arthur Cherry of Oakland and H.D. Cherry of Washington, D.C.; two daughters, Hilah Harnquist of Ross and Margaret Ann Cherry of Paris, Ill.; two sisters, Ruth Gall of Escondido and Eunice Watt of Costa Mesa, and nine grandchildren.

Inurnment will be private at Cypress Hill Memorial Park, Petaluma.

The family prefers contributions to the deacons fund at the church or to the garden club.

GEORGE WEBB

Memorial service for George H. Webb, founding partner of Webb and Webb, San Francisco accountants, will be at 3 p.m. tomorow at Halsted and Co. in San Francisco.

Webb, who was 58, died Friday after a lengthy illness.

He was born in Seattle but had lived in San Francisco 29 years.

He was a former president of the San Francisco Chapter of the California Society of Certified Public Accountants and was a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

He also belonged to the Merchants Exchange Club and the Olympic Club.

He is survived by his wife, Barbara; a daughter, Jane, of Larkspur; a son, George III of Petaluma, and two brothers, Oliver of Berkeley and Benjamin of Kentfield.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the San Francisco Diabetes Association.

D. N. DELEVOIS

Demetrus N. Delevois of Cotati, a retired clothing store owner, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness. He was 69.

He was a native of Greece, and came to the United States in 1912. He lived in Chicago many years and operated a women's clothing shop there until his retirement in 1959, when he moved to Southern Sonoma. His home was at 975 School Street.

Delevois was an Army veteran of World War I.

His wife, Mary, died in 1958.

Survivors include a brother and sister, John N. Delevois of Cotati and Jenovia Clissari of Athens, Greece, and several nieces and nephews.

Private funeral will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel in Petaluma. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

WILFORD MURRAY

Wilford Bailey Murray, a retired milk company executive, died yesterday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. He was 78.

Murray, a native of Utah, moved to California 50 years ago and was a four-year resident of Marin.

He attended Utah State University in Logan, and was an active member of the Church of the Latter-day Saints, serving as a missionary in The Netherlands, and as a temple worker, among other activities.

He was a former member of the Board of Education of Salinas.

He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by two daughters, Alva R. Murray and Anna G. Murray; two sons, W. B. Murray Jr. and Charles Murray; six brothers, Thomas, Evan, Preston, Junius, Charles, and Luther; two sisters, Rita and Ada Murray, and six grandchildren.

BRIGHT NEW MURAL FOR HEAD START

Democrats Spending Millions For June Primary Nomination

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's Democratic gubernatorial candidates are spending millions of dollars to win the party nomination June 4 in hopes of beating what could be a Watergate-burdened GOP candidate in November.

Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr.—the Democratic frontrunner for governor—has spent $672,768 in his battle for the nomination since the beginning of the year, with an additional $46,001 in volunteer services, state records show.

One of Brown's main contenders, San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto, has spent $748,000 for salaries, television spots, traveling expenses and other sundry items, since the first of the year in his quest for the Democratic nomination.

Alioto, whose primary campaign has been based largely on winning labor's endorsement, reported a $42,000 contribution from the California Labor Political Action Group and $10,000 from the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipefitters, Inc.

This weekend was the deadline for candidates seeking statewide office to disclose their campaign contributions and expenses with the Secretary of State. The statements included expenditures since the first of the year.

Another Democratic gubernatorial candidate, millionaire William Maston Roth, a San Francisco businessman, reported collecting $755,295 in his campaign for the Democratic nomination, backed by $555,000 in his own money.

On the Republican side, state Controller Houston I. Flournoy, issued a statement to newsmen saying he has spent just under $610,000 in his primary race with GOP Lieutenant Governor Ed Reinecke.

Reinecke, who has been plagued with an investigation and indictment from a Watergate grand jury in the ITT affair, reported collecting only $71,225 since the beginning of the year and spending a little under $100,000.

Only a few committee reports thus far have trickled in from Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti.

Among his bigger contributors was the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, which donated $25,000.

Flournoy reported a spattering of contributions from the oil industry with Harold Haynes, chairman of the Standard Oil of California, contributing $300, while Occidental Petroleum contributed $300 for the Flournoy effort.

He also received $2,000 from Travas E. Reed, an executive with Geothermal Resources International.

Ducats For 'Jubilee' Are Being Sold Fast

Opening night is sold out for "Jubilee," the San Rafael Centennial show, and tickets for closing night are going fast, according to ticket chairman Joan Paulson.

The two-hour musical, featuring a cast of 130 singers, dancers and actors to trace the community's history from mission days to the present, opens Friday at San Rafael High School and runs May 18, 19, 21, 22, 23 and 24. Friday and Saturday night performances begin at 8:30 p.m., all others at 8 p.m.

A special telephone ordering system has been set up for those who cannot get to the various ticket sales locations, Mrs. Paulson said. Individuals may call 454-1443, leave their names and ticket orders and be advised whether tickets are available before mailing in checks and return envelopes to "Jubilee," City Hall, San Rafael 94901.

In addition, tickets will be sold Friday, May 10, and again next Friday, May 17, at Wells Fargo Bank, 3rd and A streets, and Crocker National Bank, 4th and C streets.

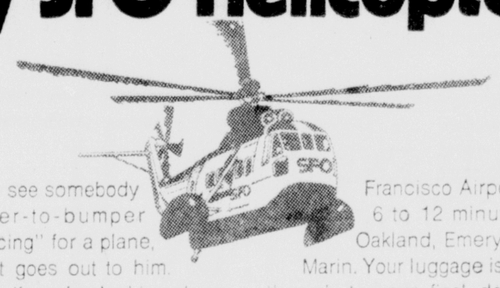
Volunteer ticket sellers will be at Macy's on 4th Street between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday, May 13, and again Thursday, May 16, between 1 and 4 p.m.

Volunteers will also be on hand to sell tickets Sunday, May 19, at Wells Fargo Bank between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. when the bank will be giving free rides in its authentic stagecoach.

Tickets continue to be available through the Centennial office at City Hall and at the gift shop at St. Raphael's Catholic Church, 1104 5th Street. The Centennial office is open weekdays between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and the St. Raphael's shop is open daily from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. "Jubilee" tickets are $2.50 each.

Feel sorry for the other guy.

Fly SFO Helicopters.



When you see somebody in bumper-to-bumper traffic "racing" for a plane, your heart goes out to him. Especially if you're looking down on him from an SFO Helicopter. When you fly SFO, you rise above it all . . . all the traffic hassles and delays. SFO gets you to San Francisco Airport in just 6 to 12 minutes, from Oakland, Emeryville, and Marin. Your luggage is checked through to your final destination, and you've spent less than a cab would have cost. No wonder you're smiling and feeling sorry for the other guy—for a change. 388-5555.

Galbraith Elected In Terra Linda

John M. Galbraith, advertising executive for a San Francisco firm, has been reelected president of the Terra Linda Homeowners Association.

Other officers are John Pechauer, vice president; Mary Conte, secretary and David Verdun, treasurer.

Galbraith, 37, is a native of New York, attended Michigan State University and earned a bachelor's degree in fine arts.

He is a six-year resident of San Rafael, residing at 863 Butternut Drive with his wife, Susan. The couple has three children.

He is a member of the citizens advisory committee on the general plan, the citizens committee on open space, and the Dixie Finance Committee.

He described the Terra Linda Homeowners' Association as a watchdog group that strives to keep the community aware of local events.

The association has 16 directors and more than 400 paid members, he said.

Caylor Wants Nixon To Resign

Thomas O. Caylor of San Francisco, candidate for the Republican nomination in the Fifth Congressional District and for election to the same seat for the remainder of this year, has urged President Nixon to "give serious consideration to the increasing demands for his resignation."

The President, Caylor declared, "has demeaned the office and eroded its respect and authority. It is important to note that it was not the presidency, but a president, who apparently condoned the payment of hugh money to criminals in an attempt to keep the truth about Watergate from becoming public," he said.

"The time has come for Mr. Nixon to make the critical distinction between himself and the office he holds," Caylor said.

KRUG — Edward M. Krug of San Rafael, candidate for Marin County district attorney, has urged legislation to make it easier to prosecute rapists and training of police officers to handle rape cases with sensitivity and compassion.

SASSELLI — Louis D. Sasselli of Corte Madera, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Ninth Assembly District, has proposed legislation to expand child care centers throughout the state. State programs now enroll about 60,000 preschool children, but some 500,000 need such programs, he said.

FARLATTI — Fernandino A. Farlatti of Tiburon, candidate for Marin Municipal Water District's Division 5 seat, has opened campaign headquarters at 1650 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon. Pat Gannaway is manager of the headquarters.

GRANT — Coffees for Robert Lee Grant of Tiburon, candidate for Marin Municipal Water District's Division 5 seat, will be held; 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Tiburon home of John A. Townsley, 61 Barbaree Way; 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Mill Valley home of Lillian Koski, 17 Sky Road, and 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Marin City home of Betty Time, 716 Drake Avenue.

DELAPLANE — Susan A. Delaplane of Tiburon, candidate for the Republican nomination in the Ninth Assembly District, has criticized the toll hike on the Golden Gate Bridge as unnecessary. She called for increasing the number of Marin directors on the bridge board.

McGUIRE — Terrence V. McGuire of San Rafael, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Fifth Congressional District and for election to the same seat for the remainder of this year, has urged that the U.S. Postal Service provide two free mailings to all candidates, and that radio and television stations provide three live debates among candidates.

ASSEMBLY — Candidates in the Ninth Assembly District have been interviewed on television by five high school students, and the taped program will be aired at 8 p.m. as follows on cable television, Channel 3: May 27 in Corte Madera, May 28 in San Rafael, May 29 in Fairfax and May 30 in Novato.

HOLLIS — Coffees for Virgil S. Hollis of Tiburon, candidate for reelection as Marin County superintendent of schools, will be held: 8 p.m. today at the Tiburon home of Roffin M. Warner Jr., 3 Hilarita Circle; 10 a.m. tomorrow at the San Rafael home of John L. Richard, 44 Circle Drive; 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Corte Madera home of James H. Crampton, 22 Fairview Avenue; 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Greenbrae home of Monte Ambinder, 129 Eliseo Drive; 10 a.m. Thursday at the San Rafael home of Merle Greenblat, 3 Flamingo Lane, and 8 p.m. Thursday at the Novato home of Walter W. Voiter, 719 Sun Lane.

HILL — Coffees for A. Alan Hill of San Rafael, candidate for the Republican nomination in the Ninth Assembly District, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato home of Mrs. Robert E. Oskar, 80 Blanca Drive; 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Ross home of William M. Spencer, 471 Lagunitas Road; 8 p.m. Wednesday at the San Anselmo home of Lawrence E. Santacruz, 60 Foothill Road; 8 p.m. Thursday at the Cotati home of Lucien G. Libarle, 705 West Railroad Avenue; 11 a.m. Sunday at the San Rafael home of Theodore A. Martin, 240 Fortes Avenue; 6 p.m. Sunday at the Mill Valley home of B. J. Connell, 81 Fairway Drive; 8 p.m. next Monday at the San Rafael home of R. Michael Morris, 283 Mountain View Avenue; 10:30 a.m. May 22 at the San Rafael home of Mrs. Louis H. Baar, 7 Meyer Road, and 8 p.m. May 22 at the San Rafael home of Walter T. Smith, 327 Mountain View Avenue.

CONNICK — Harry A. Connick of San Rafael, candidate for Marin County district attorney, has urged that self-defense school instructors be licensed to counter "the increasing number of serious injuries to students" of such schools. The popularity of the schools has attracted many teachers too inexperienced to teach safely, he said.

We want to correct a popular misconception. Our Audi Fox is such a fine car some people think it costs a lot.

The truth is, an Audi Fox sells for only $4,545.00 delivered in Marin, plus tax and license. This price includes such amenities as 4-speed transmission, leatherette upholstery, tinted glass, wall-to-wall carpeting.

It's the most innovative sports sedan in the world at its price. Front wheel drive. Sports car steering and suspension. Goes from 0 to 50 mph in 8.4 seconds. Gets about 25 mpg. We think it's a bargain.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Armco Shares Are Good Hold

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Do you advise holding Armco Steel (NYSE)? I have 72 shares. — B.F.

A. While price action on these shares may be less dynamic than operating results would suggest over the near term, Armco's long-term prospects are attractive. Recession fears and slackening demand from the appliance and automotive markets will be factors in limiting upside action. Looking further ahead, however, the company's machinery and equipment division is the leading supplier of hardware for the oil and gas industry. This division's capacity will be increased 50 per cent by 1976. Furthermore, Armco Steel is utilized by other oil equipment manufacturers.

Sales and earnings, which set records in 1973, reached new quarterly highs in the March period. Earnings rose 56 per cent to $1.22 a share on a 28 per cent gain in sales. The improvement in margins reflected increased efficiency in steel operations and an "outstanding" performance in the Armco Enterprises group which includes the machinery and equipment division, as well as leasing, insurance, construction and industrial products. In spite of pollution problems at 50 per cent-owned Reserve Mining, Armco should again return record profits on a higher level of sales this year. Hold.

Q. We are an elderly couple with $10,000 to invest in some suitable security consistent with safety and adequate return. Would you also look over the attached list of our holdings and make any suggestions? — W.P.

A. You have a diversified portfolio of high-quality holdings. The yield on your $25,000 in common stocks is an above-average 7.6 per cent, yet growth prospects for the five issues are also good. With this inflation hedge, I would suggest that your additional funds be invested in bonds for high income and preservation of capital. Two AA-rated recently issued bonds which are suitable are: Gulf States Utilities 8⅝s of 2004 and Charles Pfizer 8½s of 1999. The former is trading well below par to yield over 9.0 per cent, while the latter sells closer to par value, yielding 8.7 per cent.

ELECTRONIC STOP WATCH

A major price reduction from $199.50 to $99.50 on the Accusplit-1 electronic digital stop watch is announ ced by Harper Time and Electronics, Inc., 2330 Old Middlefield Way, Mountain View, 94040. The unit provides electronic accuracy to 1/100 of a second. Partial or lap times can be obtained while continuing to time the overall event. It is available through leading jewelry and department stores.

Gains Are Reported In Retail Business

Retail business in Marin County during the last quarter of 1973 rose by 6.35 per cent over the same period during the previous year, with farm and garden supply stores showing the largest gain, 35.2 per cent.

This and other information on retail trends are included in the May issue of I-J Retail News Letter, published by the Independent-Journal Advertising Department. The comparisons are based on taxable sales figures released by the State Board of Equalization.

Retail categories that posted substantial gains during the last quarter of 1973 (compared with the last quarter of 1972) included:

Farm and garden supply 35.2 per cent; gifts, arts and novelties 34.4 per cent; office, store and school supplies 30.1 per cent; used car dealers 29.8 per cent; fuel and ice dealers 24.4 per cent; home appliance dealers 20.2 per cent; plumbing and electrical 19.4 per cent; and packaged liquor 19.2 per cent.

The biggest losers were mobile homes, trailers and campers, which dropped 60.8 per cent; and boat, motorcycle and plane dealers, down 14.3 per cent.

Inflationary Woes Keep Stocks Down

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rising interest rates and inflation remained cautionary factors in trading today on the New York Stock Exchange. Turnover was moderate.

Also making investors uneasy was the Securities and Exchange Commission suspension of trading in Franklin Bank stock. The firm has omitted its quarterly dividend and revealed it had suffered $14 million in losses because of unauthorized foreign currency transactions.

Probably affecting the market most at present is the rise in interest rates. Most major banks in the nation have increased the prime rate to a record 11 ¼ per cent level within the past several days. And the Federal Reserve Board has maintained a relatively tight-money policy.

Consolidated Edison of New York, which has money problems of its own, was the most active issue, up ¼ at 7 ⅞ on 97,900 shares. The stock lost heavily recently.

Transportation issues generally were weaker. Union Pacific lost 1 ¼, Norfolk & Western 1 ⅛ and Delta Airlines ¾.

Energy related issues were irregular.

Investment View Will Be Presented

How best can an individual employ his dollars in the investment area?

This question will be discussed in a program called "Wall Street West" on KQED television channel 9 at 6 p.m. tomorrow (Tuesday, May 14). Program co-hosts are Max and Irwin J. Safdie, account executives in San Francisco. The program will highlight such topics as inflation, stocks and bonds, mutual funds, personal financial goals, and how to manage money.

Franklin Savings Opens First Marin Office In Larkspur Site

Franklin Savings, California's oldest savings and loan association, opened its Larkspur office today, its first in Marin County. The new office is at 5 Bon Air Road in the Sohner Plaza Shopping Center, near Magnolia Avenue.

Bernard G. Bialkin of Terra Linda, manager of the new office, announced that the grand opening will continue this week and next, through May 24. Coffee and cookies will be served visitors during the grand opening.

Franklin Savings, founded in 1875 in San Francisco, was originally a German-American savings society, and is noted for its sound, conservative policy, said Bialkin. "Franklin has never missed an interest payment in nearly a century, surviving the 1906 fire and earthquake and the nation's financial recessions while providing uninterrupted service for savers."

R. J. (BUD) ECKERT, who has 20 years of experience in real estate brokerage, has opened a new office doing business as Eckert Realty, Realtors, at 855 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael. The corporation of Eckert and Associates, Inc., at Montecito Shopping Center was voluntarily dissolved, as reported last week.

Eckert and Ed Katz purchased the Monte Mar Motel last month and are renting most of the units on a monthly basis. Some of the units were converted into office space for Eckert Realty. His sales staff include his wife, Joan, also a broker, Ed Katz, Jim Guilder, Cheryl Stanfill, Rocki Melanephy, Ken and Phyllis Brewer, and secretary Salley Dennett.

Eckert is past president of the Marin County Board of Realtors and has been in general real estate brokerage since 1954.

Savage

TERRY SAVAGE of Terra Linda, a landscape architect with Sasaki Walker Associates Inc. of Sausalito, has been selected by the National Foundation on the Arts and Humanities to serve on a committee of the second Federal Design Assembly.

Established by President Nixon in 1972, the Design Assembly is an annual conference in which leaders in the design field meet to present recommendations to federal agency administrators to strengthen and unify federal design, planning and programs. The second Design Assembly will meet in September in Washington, D.C.

WILLIAM TIMMER Realty Inc. at 208 Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda has opened a new Novato office, taking over the former Perachiotti Realty at South Novato Boulevard and Rowland Boulevard.

Frank Perachiotti, a Novato realtor since 1947 and a past president of the Marin County Board of Realtors, will manage the Novato office. William Timmer Realty is owned by Mel Jung, John Vivaldo and Vannucci.

INDIVIDUAL LEARNING Systems Inc. at 4140 Redwood Highway in the Northgate area, corner of Professional Center Parkway, will move across the highway next month into suite 200 of the Holiday Plaza Building next to Holiday Inn.

Individual Learnings Systems, founded in 1971 by President Sidney Wilson of Tiburon, publishes individualized course material for college students, primarily in the introductory level courses for freshmen.

The lease was arranged by George H. Denney of Garrison Pacific Properties. Denney also leased additional space on the fifth floor of the Holiday Plaza for the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission, which occupies the first floor. Denney said he has additional space available in the building.

REALTORS BREAKFAST — Dr. Gerald Hill, San Rafael psychiatrist, will be guest speaker at tomorrow's weekly breakfast meeting of the Marin County Board of Realtors at Holiday Inn, Northgate. The meeting starts at 8 a.m.

Dr. Hill will present a film, "Too Tough To Care," and will discuss "Why People Continue to Smoke, and Modern Methods of Stopping."

ROBERT P. BURKE of Santa Rosa has been appointed assistant vice president and manager of the Mill Valley-Tiburon office of Sierra National Bank at 101 Tiburon Boulevard, Mill Valley. As of May 17, the bank's Tiburon office at 55 Main Street will consolidate with the Mill Valley office.

Burke has been manager of the Boyes Hot Springs office of Sierra National Bank since June of 1972 and was promoted to assistant vice president in January of this year.

CAL-MARIN TITLE Co., formerly located in the Ross Valley Savings building at 511 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae, is no longer in business.

Brian L. Hutcherson, who headed Cal-Marin Title, said the firm is being dissolved, and its former office space is now occupied by a branch of Founders Title Co. Manager of Founders Title Co. office in Greenbrae is Carleton R. Lago of Novato.

Cal-Marin Title operated for about 10 years at 1331 Fourth Street in San Rafael before moving to Greenbrae last year.

STARTING A BUSINESS? A free one-day workshop for prospective business owners and managers will be held in San Francisco on Monday, May 20, by the U.S. Small Business Administration. The all-day workshop will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in room 15030 of the Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue.

Gilbert Montano, regional director of the U.S. Small Business Administration, said advance registration is necessary because seating is limited. Qualified speakers from SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives) and from private firms will discuss various aspects of starting and running a business.

Arguments Seen In Recreation Use

"There'll probably be arguments" whether parts of the sprawling Golden Gate National Recreation Area should be open to horseback riding, motorbikes, camping and other activities, Supt. William J. Whalen warned Saturday as a preliminary draft of the GGNRA land use and development "alternatives" was given its first public review. (Another recreation area story, page 1)

The arguments may be both short-term — over uses allowed before the eventual master plan is approved — and on ultimate issues such as transportation access or how much neighboring communities should develop visitor-oriented facilities, he said.

The preliminary draft was reviewed for the Golden Gate National Recreation Advisory Commission at its meeting in Tamalpais High School. About 75 persons in the audience heard a brief presentation by park service planner Douglas Cornell, on the bulky report previewed in the Independent-Journal on Friday.

Commissioner Merritt Robinson of San Anselmo praised the draft's proposals to "leave as is" the Olema Valley, Bolinas Ridgelands and other areas "not thoroughly damaged by man." But he voiced concern over the lack of any predictions as to the number of visitors to the area, and warned that solution of transportation problems "is the key" to success of any plan.

He urged funding to improve safety in the Marin Forts area and elsewhere where deep pits or other hazards could harm visitors. Whalen said such funds are available.

Commissioner Fred Blumberg of Lafayette warned that planning for the Marin Headlands is urgent because "the demand for their use is there now. You can imagine what would happen if the motorcyclists got to it. It's very fragile. . . and it's very accessible."

"We're operating a lot of this property way ahead of the master plan," answered Whalen. "That's why we need operating objectives now, so we don't make mistakes." He explained that permits for GGNRA land use that merely continue past uses — such as grazing — are being granted for up to five years. New uses are either being stalled or are getting short-term use permits, he added.

"I've asked the staff to promulgate regulations for trail bikes," he said.

Commissioner Daphne Green of Ross said she is "awfully disturbed by the visitor use concepts. Too many times you say the land is there for use — but only certain classes of use. You've got a whole bunch of kids in San Francisco who might not enjoy looking at ferns but would enjoy" other activities. In planning uses, "the inner city is a very important thing" to serve, she said.

"We want to try group experiments this summer, with camping" and other programs, Cornell replied. But, "we're a long way from having adequate facilities."

Rex Rathburn, cochairman of the Bolinas Planning Group, warned that the federal recreation area has created "three critically impacted enclaves — Bolinas, Stinson Beach and Muir Beach." He said the communities' citizens want to preserve them as "rural villages" rather than tourist centers.

Other citizens asked whether any particular types of recreation have been given priorities, and how the land use and development study will dovetail with the recreational travel study that's been in progress for some time by another, parallel advisory group.

"We haven't yet answered these questions among ourselves," answered Commission Chairman Frank Boerger of San Anselmo.

After the public is given condensed, edited copies of the development and use proposal, "there'll probably be arguments" over the types of recreational use to get priorities, Whalen said. "Then the commission, after getting public input, can determine where to go go ahead."

Gregory Davis of Muir Beach protested that Whalen's aides have ordered horse grazing phased out on a pasture purchased by the recreation area. The horses mostly are owned by youngsters, and the community has built a riding arena nearby on private land to encourage the youth activity, he said.

Whalen said the grazing problem is complicated by the apparent boarding stable operation going on the federal land, but promised "further discussions."

Other citizens called for provision of more restrooms, emergency facilities and information centers, particularly in the Marin Headlands.

The commission ordered Whalen's staff to prepare condensed versions of the 200-page proposed use and development plan. Whalen and Cornell said they hope to hold a series of workshops to discuss the plan in communities throughout Marin and San Francisco, after the condensed version is available.

Judge Schnake And White House Tapes

Judge Robert H. Schnake of U. S. District Court in San Francisco ruled last week that it was not illegal for the security chief at Macy's San Francisco store to monitor telephone conversations of employees.

The ruling may have given some comfort to the man in the White House — if he heard about it.

The U. S. attorney's office had charged the Macy's security man with violation of Title 18, Section 2512, of the United States code. That makes it a federal crime to eavesdrop on a conversation between two or more other people without the consent of one of them. It is a felony, carrying a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

Judge Schnake held the listening-in was covered by an exception which permits monitoring a telephone line to make sure it is in order — an exception put in the law for the benefit of telephone companies. U. S. Dist. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. does not agree, and plans an appeal.

JUDGE SCHANKE'S ruling may be of some comfort to the man in the White House because of the secret system installed there to monitor conversations in the Oval Office, the Lincoln sitting room and the president's offices in the Executive Office Building and at Camp David, Md.

The existence of that system was a bombshell tossed into the Senate Watergate committee hearings last July 16 by Alexander P. Butterfield, the man who was in charge of installing it. This led to demands for the tape recordings of White House conversations by the Senate committee, federal grand juries, defendants in Watergate-related cases, and the House Judiciary Committee, and to the release a week ago of edited and expurgated transcripts of some of the conversations.

THE MAN in the White House is not in violation of the federal anti-eavesdropping law where he was a participant in the conversations. U. S. Attorney Browning explained that the consent of only one party is sufficient to legalize the surreptitious recordings, regardless of how many others may have been participating. The president, of course, knew his offices and telephones were "bugged."

But as Butterfield described the setup to the senators, the presence of Mr. Nixon in one of the offices was shown by a light in a "locator box." When the light went on, so did the tape recorder.

Unexplained, however, was how the "locator box" could tell Mr. Nixon from somebody else. So the possibility may exist that some of the president's employees were — like the Macy employees — electronically eavesdropped outside Mr. Nixon's presence.

THERE WOULD BE no doubt about the whole matter if the federal law were like the California anti-eavesdropping law. It requires the consent of all parties to a conversation before it may be recorded or listened to by someone else.

Why Mr. Nixon had his offices and phones "bugged" has remained an unanswered question. Butterfield assured the Senate committee it was "solely for posterity." That sounded a little more credible then than it does now, after reading the transcripts with their "(expletive deleted)", "(characterization deleted)", and "(unintelligible)."

Effeminate Men

It has seemed to us that perhaps the level of masculinity in men, taken as a group, is declining among Marin's young. We don't mean the long hair or manner of dress. They are just the trimming anyway. It's something that has to do with assertiveness and drive and muscularity. However, we hesitated to mention it, thinking it might be a product of our middle-age chauvinism. Now, we read of a study in St. Louis which showed heavy marijuana smokers have roughly half the normal blood level of the male hormone. If pot smoking is as prevalent as we are led to believe, the limp-wrist and enigmatically smiling young men may grow in numbers.

It's not for us to pass judgment. We are not too fond of the hairy-chested ideal portrayed by Hemmingway. But this slightly-female male requires some adjustments in thinking by those of us over 40.

Atheltics For Sport's Sake —Or Lions Vs. The Christians?

(Reprinted from Eureka Times-Standard)

The Battle of Waterloo, they say, was won on the playing fields of Eton. About all that is being won on today's football or baseball field, besides transient glory, are lucrative contracts by the superstars to peddle shaving cream or pantyhose.

If the commercialization of sports in America were confined to the professionals, it would be one thing. They are, after all, in the business to make money by giving the public what it wants — a winning team.

But Americans not only demand that the gladiators whose salaries they pay must win, win, win. They demand it also of their college teams, their high school teams, even their Little Leagues, and woe to the coach who is unable to meet that demand.

MORE AND MORE educators are beginning to question the assumption that competitive sports build character. They may, indeed, do just the opposite, especially if they are inspired by the kind of win-at-any-cost attitude many Americans seem to have identified with the word "sports."

One critic, a track athlete himself, has been impolitic enough to point out that the first definition of "sport" in the dictionary is "a pleasurable activity." Sport is fun, something worth doing. And, he suggests, anything worth doing is worth doing badly.

As it is, those of us not gifted with outstanding natural athletic ability are quite early on discouraged from participating in sports and are taught to be apologetic about our minimal skills.

FEW CRITICS, however, have gone as far as the former supervisor of elementary physical education in Ohio, who recently advocated that all public school team sports be abolished.

The purpose of physical education, as with other school programs, noted Ambrose Brazelton, is to teach. But school team sports, he charged, neglect the very ones who need them most — the nonathletic "Fat Freddies."

This will be heresy in the ears of some parents and alumni, who would rather see their schools go without libraries than without a winning team and a stadium to showcase it.

Of course, the Fat Freddies can always become spectators and join the great mass of other Americans, who may know their team statistics backwards but have as little conception of the real meaning of sport as the people who used to match lions against Christians.

ERNEST B. FURGURSON:

Read Transcripts; Don't Take Someone's Word

WASHINGTON — Read the transcripts.

The White House, having put out its doctored version of some of the evidence subpoenaed by the House Judiciary Committee, is running an intensive public relations campaign to mislead the world about what is in the transcripts. Its aim is for most Americans to be impressed favorably by the mere fact of the issuance and never to bother to plow through the edited transcripts themselves.

The temptation among most citizens will be to take the word of others, either Mr. Nixon or his aides or the press, rather than doing all that reading firsthand. But any citizen who takes that easy route limits his authority to pass his opinion on to his spouse or neighbor.

THE LOOSE-LEAF NOTEBOOK version of the transcripts to which the president pointed so grandly in his television speech, which for that purpose covered some nine square feet of wall space, has been reduced to 782 pocket book pages in the verbatim commercial version, available for about $2.50. Literate voters have no good excuse for not reading it.

Mr. Nixon's campaign began with his television speech, conceding that the transcripts would "provide grist for many sensational stories in the press," but insisting:

"These actions will at last, once and for all, show that what I knew and what I did with regard to the Watergate break-in and coverup were just as I have described them to you from the very beginning . . ."

Then, before the full edited transcript was released, the White House issued a 50-page "summary" which used highly selective quotations to make a case supporting Mr. Nixon's innocence. Only five hours later was the 1,308-page blue-bound transcript put out for the media.

Following up, Ken Clawson, the White House director of communications, mailed out the 50-page brief to editors everywhere in hope they would base their comments on it rather than the longer, more incriminating version.

Mr. Nixon's out-front lawyer, James St. Clair, held three separate briefings for newsmen to sell his client's case. He and Alexander Haig, the White House chief of staff, both went on Sunday television interview shows, "stonewalling," as they would have reported to the president, on the issue of releasing more tape data.

THE WHITE HOUSE brought forth a remarkable advocate, Rev. John McLaughlin, a staff Jesuit priest who seems to be an emergency substitute for Billy Graham and Spiro Agnew. He said with a straight face on CBS that no one had alleged even a misdemeanor was proven by the transcripts. Then he held a White House press conference to certify that there was nothing immoral in them.

The White House staff conjured up a long document to prove that John Dean was not a reliable witness, planted it in the Congressional Record through Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and then released it generally over the week end.

The president's advance men fanned out to Arizona, Washington state and Oklahoma to drum up crowd support for his speeches there, just as if he were reaching the climax of a re-election campaign.

In the first few days, the massive PR effort seemed to succeed. The fact of the transcripts, the argument over whether they sufficed as committee evidence, the huckstered opinions of them sometimes dominated the news. But then people started reading them — first newsmen, then some legislators, lawyers, bureaucrats, now everybody.

As they read, gossip is lively here about what was in some of those "unintelligible" spots, what some of the deleted expletives were, how much is missing. But for the moment, that is beside the point; what is there in the transcripts has stunned Washington.

But don't take my word for it. Above all, don't take the White House's.

Read the transcripts.

Assistance Sought In Locating Dog

This is an appeal to anyone who witnessed the incident on D Street and Bayview Street, San Rafael, on Monday, May 5, at approximately 8 p.m. which involved our son, Rik Liddell, and an injured dog, or anyone who has any knowledge whatsoever pertaining to this.

He has started the painful rabies series and if the injured dog could be found the series could be shortened, the possibility of someone else being bitten would be eliminated, and the dog could be given treatment.

We are sincerely appreciative of the assistance of the San Rafael Police Department, the Humane Society, and the many friends and neighbors who have tried to find the dog. We are indeed proud of our son who was willing to become involved and attempted to help an injured animal and is concerned that no one else is bitten.

Anyone knowing of an injured or sick dog (beagle-terrier mix or similar type, tri-colored) please contact the San Rafael Police Department or the Humane Society.

Mr. and Mrs. JIM LIDDELL

Children Need Love Wasted On Animals

Thank you, Dr. T. Van Dellen, for writing about pet population that is really getting out of control. I hope that every pet owner has read and understands it.

And to add a point, it is very sad to see the American people neglecting their children and grandchildren not given enough love and attention they need so badly instead of giving it all to the animals.

If the time, love and money spent on those animals is given to human beings, this would make a better world to live in.

Parent Speaks Up For Pre-Primary School

Re: Pre-primary education program, Larkspur-Corte Madera School District:

As the mother of two children presently enrolled in San Clemente School and deeply concerned for all children, I was shocked to learn that the innovative and highly successful pre-primary program is in danger of being cancelled. I have observed the very favorable results gained by those children who have spent a year in pre-primary.

Cancellation of this program forces children, who are not ready to go, into first grade where they cannot cope, resulting in lowered self-esteem and a pattern of failure. There is no way to measure the damage these children will suffer. No amount of remedial work will restore their lost feeling of self-worth.

With every teacher and principal in the district praising the merits of and proclaiming the need for pre-primary, plus overwhelming parental support, it seems unconscionable that cancellation is being considered.

I completely and wholeheartedly support the pre-primary program and its very fine and capable teacher Catherine Coughlin. I sincerely hope that the Larkspur-Corte Madera school board will consider this issue carefully and will vote unanimously at their May 23 meeting to continue this valuable program.

In true astronaut fashion, John Glenn has completed a successful mission. But he's wasting his time waiting for a phone call from the president.

You have to feel sorry for Sen. Howard Metzenbaum of Ohio. He's the first big loser of the year who can't even blame his downfall on Nixon.

The anti-Nixon people are furious with Willy Brandt. He found an East German spy in his government before they could turn up one in the White House.

The word from the White House is that President Nixon is in good spirits. Despite all his troubles, he's not blue — only his language is.

French Reds Speak Softly In Hope Of Winning Big Stick

DECEPTIVE TACTIC BY THE FRENCH COMMUNISTS. The French Communist Party, largest in Western Europe, is being as gentle as a lamb in the current presidential campaign. It is supporting an alliance with Socialist candidate Francois Mitterrand in a very un-Communist manner.

Reason: The Communists know they can get Mitterrand elected only if they can presuade French voters that they love democracy, believe in it, and won't resort to a Stalinesque dictatorship if they get hold of the government. There's been no violence at all in recent weeks, and plenty of criticism of the Soviet Union for exiling Alexander Solzhenitsyn and invading Czechoslovakia.

IT PROBABLY WON'T WORK. French voters are rejecting the Gaullist right and will likely reject the Communist-Socialist left in the runoff May 19. The next French President will probably be the unexpectedly popular finance minister, Valery Giscard d'Estaing, a conservative non-Gaullist.

GOP AT LOW POINT IN GOVERNORSHIPS. Republican governors enter the 1974 campaign holding the fewest seats since 1963 — only 18 of the 50 statehouses; the Democrats hold 32.

Thirty-five state governorships are up for election this fall. Twelve are Republican, 23 are Democratic.

Since nearly twice as many Democratic statehouses as Republican are in contention, the GOP has a statistical advantage. It is doubtful if it has a political advantage.

The Republicans look to Georgia, Hawaii, Maine, New Mexico and South Carolina as states where they might make some gains.

But the GOP's biggest and most-prizes states — California, Massachusetts and New York — are threatened.

THE GOVERNORS AND CAMPAIGN FINANCING. There is wide support among the governors in favor of a mix of public and private financing for federal and statewide elections. The problem of money corruption in campaigns will be high on the agenda of the governors' conference in Seattle early next month.

VOTERS ELECT MORE BLACK OFFICIALS. The number of elected black officeholders is 152 per cent greater than five years ago. The latest figures show that as of last month there were 2,991 black persons in elective offices in 45 states and the District of Columbia. This compared with 2,621 a year ago and 1,185 in 1969.

The number of black mayors increased at a rate faster than any other category of elective office — from 82 last year to 108 now, a 31.7 per cent increase.

Blacks are now mayors of such major cities as Los Angeles, Atlanta, Detroit, Gary, Cincinnati, Newark, Dayton and Raleigh.

MUSIC IS BREAKING OUT ALL OVER. There is a nationwide symphony explosion. Folk, rock, country-western and soul music get most of the publicity, but the number and size of symphony orchestras performing in the United States are going up all the time.

Figures compiled by the American Symphony Orchestra League show there are 30 major symphony orchestras in the United States with budgets exceeding $1 million and more than 85 "metropolitan" orchestras with budgets above $100,000.

PAUL E. PETERZELL

Giacomini Burns His Bridges In Support Of Democrat Burton

Gary T. Giacomini apparently has no political ambitions beyond his present position as Marin County supervisor.

Any further step up the political ladder would mean a partisan race testing his credential as a Republican. As of late, at least, his partisan credential is more than slightly tarnished.

Giacomini has been campaigning actively for and with Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Fifth Congressional District. Giacomini assured Republicans backing Thomas O. Caylor in the same race that he would not come out officially for Burton, but the line as to what is "official" appears to have become blurred.

The supervisor defends his campaigning for Burton by pointing to the power of Burton and his brother already in Congress, to do good things for the county and his supervisorial district. Rep. Phillip Burton, for example, was the major force behind creation of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, and the assemblyman is pushing legislation to save Marin at least a quarter million dollars a year in payments to the Golden Gate Bridge District for disputed bus service costs, Giacomini noted.

"The way I see it," he said of the Burtons, "Marin will have two congressmen."

All of this inevitably will haunt Giacomini if he seeks higher office. He could, of course, change party, but then he would have a similar problem with Democrats. It's tough to be both a successful politician and politically independent.

THE CONTEST in the Republican primary in the Second Senatorial District between Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, and Sonoma County Supervisor Robert Theiller is based largely on the contrast between Behr's environmentalism and Theiller's supposed preference for the traditional rights of property owners and developers.

An inspection of their "statements of economic interests," however, shows some similarities. While Theiller has heavy interests in real estate and land development, Behr has considerable investments in businesses such as the Louisiana Land and Exploration Co. and McAlester Fuel Co., both producers of oil and gas.

It is apparent, of course, that Behr's independence as a public official has not been compromised by his investments. It seems only fair to make the same assumption about Theiller.

The California and Gulf coasts, after all, are equally deserving of environmental controls.

REMEMBER THE GOOD old days, not too many months ago, when the Golden Gate Bridge District still was predicting its new ferry system would start operating June 1 of this year. That's only three weeks off.

Perhaps it's time to consider dinghies. After all, they could be purchased and available in practically no time at all. They're cheap, good for commuters' health, and would boost the economy. And they don't harm the environment.

WILL ROGERS SAYS . . .

"There is hundreds of thousands of people being driven from their homes — homes that won't be there when they come back. You hear a good deal about what Congress is going to do for the Mississippi Valley. I don't want to discourage the valley but I would advise them to put more confidence in a boat builder. I got more faith in high ground than any senator I ever saw.

"When you talk about poor people that have been hit by this flood, look at the thousands of Negroes that never did have much, but now it's washed away. You don't want to forget that water is just as high up on them as it is if they were white. The Lord so constituted everybody, that no matter what color you are, you require about the same amount of nourishment." — Spring, 1927.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BILL ROBERTS

Freshman Commissioners Face Larkspur Planning Problems

Larkspur is in for one of the biggest planning periods of the city's life. Massive developments are proposed for San Quentin Peninsula and the Bon Air site.

Both developments are snarled in the environmental impact procedure. The proposed Bon Air Shopping Center impact report is back in the hands of the developer. And the peninsula project is nearly ready to go to bid for preparation of an impact report.

As soon as those reports come in, the first hearings will be held by the city's planning commission.

ALL THIS is in prelude to a note on the fact that the city council has just appointed four new planning commissioners.

The group appears to be long on enthusiasm, all having already expressed interest in attending an educational conference for planning commissioners. And they are not short on expertise, since one member is a professional planner and others have had their hands in the political pot in Larkspur for some time.

But it does create an interesting situation: a commission made up of four freshman members which will be reviewing two of the largest development proposals ever to come before the city.

It's a situation that will have the critics lined up at the city hall door to take their pot shots and will probably put the new commissioners under some extra pressure.

But (if it is possible in a political situation) the whole picture deserves a philosophy of fair play and the new commissioners should be given a chance to show what they can do.

The straight-forward treatment and factual accounts seem to testify that students put scholarly effort into the presentation. But the front page of the newspaper is an interesting comment on the thinking of today's student.

It shows two students holding alcoholic beverage containers, and in my school days those probably would have been a beer can and wine bottle. The tastes of these students must be much more refined, however, as one student carries what looks like fixings for a martini and the other holds what appears to be a champagne bottle.

A FRIEND RECENTLY likened the fate of a reporter to that of a mushroom. Everyone keeps him in the dark and they feed him (expletive deleted).

THE MIND I LIVE IN

Breakfast Is Depressing Without Cereal Boxes

By ROB TREICHLER

If you're a compulsive reader, you've probably discovered that truth in advertising is now a part of your breakfast-time education.

Some are witty, gay and smiling at breakfast. I grumble lots, and feel all over about the way my mouth tastes when I wake up.

Over the years, the only cure I have found is time. For this restorative period, I hide behind a newspaper and read until I feel the human race will again grant me membership.

SOME DAYS THE ONLY thing I can hide behind until the long hair and curved fingernails retract into my body is a cereal box. When I spent my formative years, cereal boxes filled the void between installments of the afternoon radio hero's exploits, and were the only way you could get the Captain Marvel Mystery Decoder, or the Smiling Jack Glow in the Dark Combination Secret-Compartment Astral Compass and Society Recognition Ring. Today the cereal box has become an extension course in economics and nutrition.

Major Mush, one of the kid's favorites, in one ounce servings, provides 25 per cent of the USDRA (United States Recommended Daily Allowance) of just about everything you never even heard of. In one ounce (dry) you get 25 per cent of the Vitamin C, B-6, and B-12, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin and iron you need every day. You also get minimal amounts (less than 2 per cent) of things like vitamin A and calcium.

Some of the other cereals give a little more, some a little less, and their nutrition is greatly enhanced, as one might expect, by adding milk.

I THINK THE MAJOR impact of the truth in advertising lay insofar as cereal boxes is concerned is the cereal companies now have one less panel on which to print offers of silverware and flower seeds, and we get a bunch of information that very few of us are prepared to digest.

Cereals generally run from about 70-90 per cent carbohydrate, 4-10 per cent fat, and 3-10 per cent protein. Now the only thing that sounds useful to me is the miniscule amount of protein. I always felt most diets encouraged one to stay far away from the fat and carbohydrates. Yet how can you stay away from something that provides you with 25-35 per cent of your USDRA or MDR (Minimum Daily Requirement) of so many necessary things?

I really feel I'd like to eat a well-balanced diet every day, and those high per centage figures are very reassuring. So reassuring in fact, I'm almost ready to overlook the other things they pack in the box. I don't mind the wheat, oats and raisins. That I can handle. What causes me concern is the coconut and peanut oil (sounds like fat) and monoglycerides, sodium ascorbate and sodium phoshate, artificial flavors and colors, niacin, iron, calcium carbonate, gum acacia, pyridoxine, riboflavin, thiamin, BHT, vitamin C and vitamin A palmitate.

I USED TO LIKE other things at breakfast. Bacon. Eggs. Eggs, one of the world's perfect foods. Until some fool discovered cholesterol and told Toast. Jam. Fresh juice.

Why not extend the labeling law to other things? They could stamp on the USDRA and MDR on oranges when they rubber stamp on the "Sunkist". Put the contents right on the meat carcass when they stamp it "USDA Choice." And eggs. That would be a problem for sure. But I'm positive a new hybrid type chicken could work it out.

New Cattle Feed Holds Promise

CHETUMAL, Mexico (UPI) — An experimental feed based on sugar cane that has been setting records in fattening beef cattle, could revolutionize cattle ranching in the tropics, a Mexican territorial governor said yesterday.

David Gustavo Gutierrez, governor of the territory of Quintana Roo on the Yucatan peninsula said the feed mixture, prepared mainly with ground sugar cane, molasses, and rice proteins, has been used in an experiment with several hundred steers.

The animals have gained an average of 900 pounds in six months, a gain that normally takes two and a half years.

Low cost and the elimination of grazing are two advantages of the feed, the governor said. Twenty animals—instead of the usual five—can be fed on the harvest of 41 acres of land, using the cane mixture.

Friendly Forger Sent To Prison

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (UPI) — Walter Paul's friendliness has cost him as much as 14 years in prison.

Paul, 43, of San Bernardino was sentenced to one to 14 years in prison after pleading guilty to two counts of check forgery. It was estimated he passed $60,000 in bad checks throughout Southern California in 1971.

Paul's mode of operation was to convince bank tellers to accept his checks as legitimate without identification.

Paul was nicknamed the "friendly forger" by authorities.

10 Sentenced On Drunken Driving

Ten persons have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sentenced Monday by Judge Gary W. Thomas was:

Franklin Mills Sterling, 41, of 10 Circle Drive, Tiburon, arrested Jan. 16 on Highway 101; given 15 days in jail, suspended, and two years' probation and fined $315.

Sentenced Monday by Judge David R. Baty were:

Dolores Anita Barger, 44, of 24 Great Circle Drive, Mill Valley, arrested April 13 in Sausalito; given 15 days in jail, suspended, and two years' probation, fined $315 and ordered to attend the court's drunken drivers' school.

Steven Frederick Hayden, 27, of 64 Morningsun Drive, Homestead Valley, arrested March 15 on Shoreline Highway; given 15 days in jail, suspended, and two years' probation, fined $315 and ordered to attend the court's drunken drivers' school.

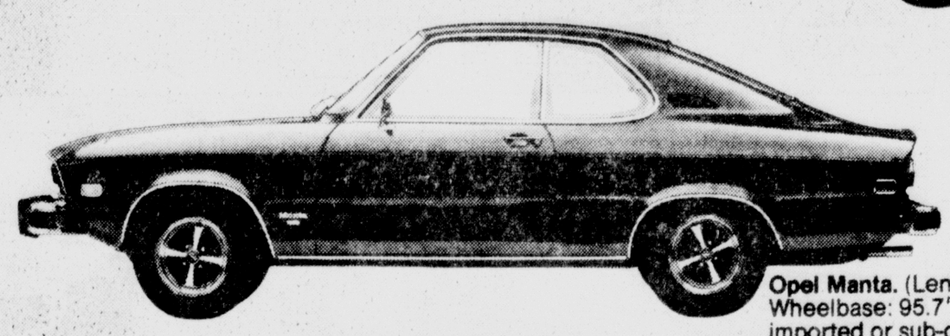
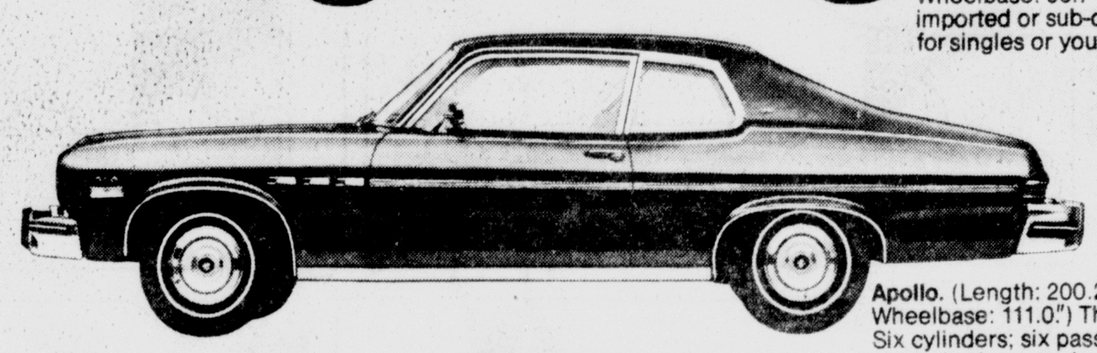
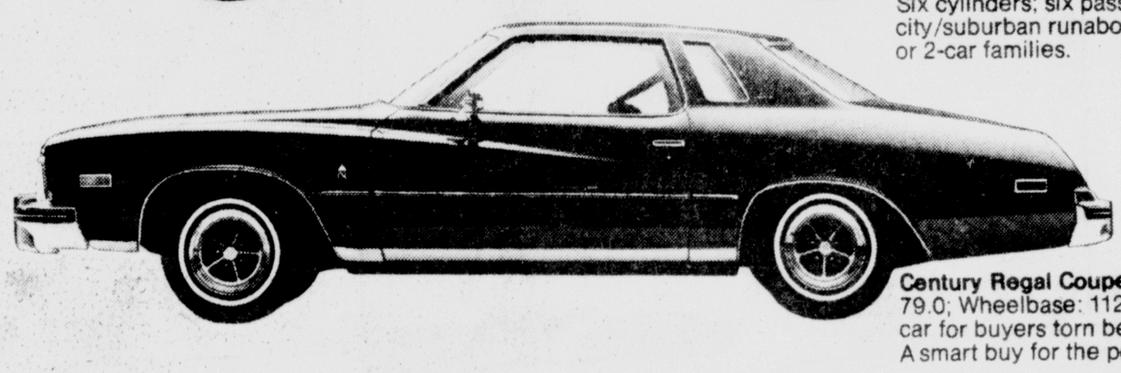
Sometimes small is right.



Opel Manta. (Length: 176.1; Width: 64.3; Wheelbase: 95.7".) A sporty car for the imported or sub-compact buyer. Perfect for singles or young marrieds, too.



Apollo. (Length: 200.2; Width: 72.7; Wheelbase: 111.0".) The Buick of small cars. Six cylinders; six passengers. An ideal city/suburban runabout. For medium-sized or 2-car families.



Century Regal Coupe. (Length: 212.0; Width: 79.0; Wheelbase: 112.0".) A luxurious mid-size car for buyers torn between "small" and "big". A smart buy for the personal car lover, too.

Sometimes big is right.

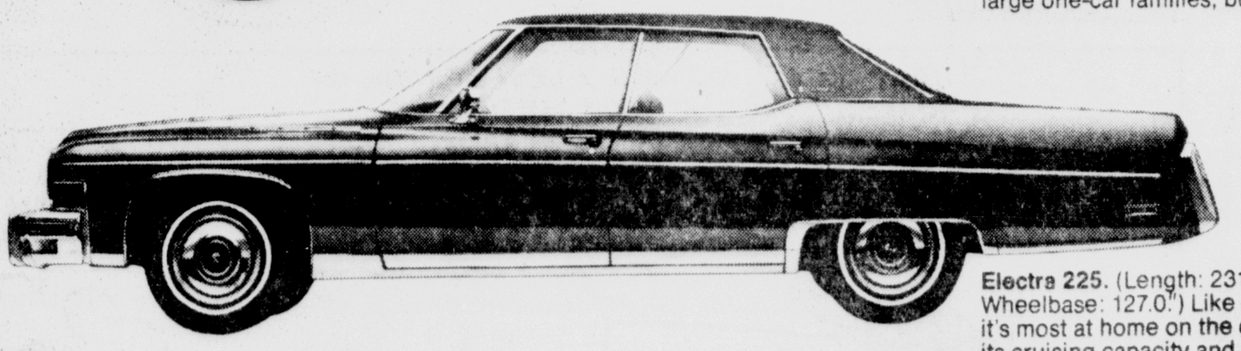
LeSabre. (Length: 225.9; Width: 79.9; Wheelbase: 124.0".) Generous trunkroom for large one-car families, businessmen, traveling.



Electra 225. (Length: 231.5; Width: 79.9; Wheelbase: 127.0".) Like other full-size Buicks it's most at home on the open road, where its cruising capacity and roominess can be fully appreciated.

Buick makes both right.

Pick the size that fits the way you drive. Today's gasoline situation is forcing all of us to take a long, analytical look at the cars we're driving. The intelligent way to pick the right one is to look at how you use your car. For some people, a small car like our Opel is perfect. Others who drive more or carry more need more car. And Buick has them in all shapes and sizes. How about you? Think about how you use your car and pick the size that's right for the way you drive. Then visit your Buick dealer. With Opel, Apollo, Century, LeSabre, Riviera and Electra he's sure to have the right car for you.

Navy's New Gun System Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new computerized Navy gun system designed to shoot down enemy missiles also tends to aim at friendly vessels and even nearby islands, according to Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis.

Aspin said his information on the troubles of the "Phalanx" gun system came from a declassified General Accounting Office (GAO) study, which reported that during tests off the California coast, "the system tracked, locked onto and declared as a threat Santa Barbara island and the USS Hollister," a destroyer that participated in the tests.

The Navy declined to release the speed the "Phalanx" computer reported for the island. A spokesman said the system is still under development.

Crash Victim's Body Is Found

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — A Sonoma County rescue unit recovered the body of a plane crash victim over the weekend.

George Albert Burke, 31, Daly City, apparently was killed when his single engine Cessna 150 crashed into a mountainside six miles south of Santa Rosa on April 27.

Burke was flying from San Francisco to Sonoma to pick up his parents for a plane ride when his aircraft disappeared, said Sonoma County Deputy Coroner Wayne Dunham. His body was found Saturday.

Never Say No; Take Advantage For Contract On Opening Lead

What is the correct procedure when an opponent makes the only opening lead that gives you a chance for the contract? In Anglo-Saxon countries a kiss on both cheeks is considered excessive. Still, there's no need to hand the contract right back.

FRIENDLY LEAD

West opened the nine of diamonds, a very friendly opening lead. Declarer sportingly covered with dummy's ten of diamonds.

East properly played low and South allowed dummy to win the trick.

After drawing trumps South led a club in the hope of setting up a trick in that suit. This was a reasonable play, but it gave up south's last chance for the contract.

East won with the queen of clubs and returned a heart. South had to overtake his king with dummy's ace in order to try a second diamond finesse. This finesse was not enough, and South eventually lost a diamond trick. Down one.

SEVERAL CHANCES

South had several chances to make his slam. The simplest method is to play a low diamond from dummy at the first trick, winning in the South hand with the jack. South draws trumps and later overtakes the king of hearts with dummy's ace in order to lead the ten of diamonds through East.

Even after making the wrong play at the first trick South can still fulfill the slam. He leads out all seven trumps, saving dummy's ace of hearts and king of clubs together with some diamonds. He then leads to the ace of hearts and takes a diamond finesse.

FORCES EAST

By this time East is reduced to the ace of clubs and two diamonds. South thereupon leads his club and forces East to yield a third diamond finesse.

MUSIC REVIEW

Bloch Concert Is A Smasher

By SYLVIA L. RUBY

A smashing performance of Ernest Bloch's Second String Quartet (1946) was the high point of the Marin Arts Quartet's final concert of the 1974 series last night at Angelico Hall of Dominican College.

Thirty years had elapsed between Bloch's first and second quartets; the second is a mature work written at the height of his creative powers. It is full of the Hebraic coloration Bloch used to express his most deeply felt personal convictions. A challenging piece for all performers, it calls for a surety of technique as each instrument pursues an individual course much of the time.

Violinist Charles Meacham temporarily abandoned his usual refined approach and demonstrated the aggressive, forceful playing needed. Second violinist Mark Jordan, violist Elizabeth Bell (substituting nobly on nine days notice for Lucien Mitchell, who was ill), and cellist Jean Mitchell carried their share of the melodic burden with matched intensity.

The quartet abounds with melodic and rhythmic content. Short incisive bow strokes marked the agitation of the second and fourth movements. In contrasting serene, translucent periods, Meacham's pure sustained tone grew from one note into the next. Pianist Robaline Reacham joined the trio of strings for the two other selections of the program, Mozart's Quartet for Piano and Strings in G Minor and Joaquin Turina's Quartet in A Minor (1931. Both works call for much more than an accompanist's role for the piano, and Mrs. Meacham gave a fine accounting in each.

Viola and cello in the Mozart provide mostly harmonic support with only occasional solo importance, the emphasis is given to the piano and violin as themes are traded back and forth. The third movement Gavotte was given a lively reading — the rondo melodies are first simply stated then repeated in a more elaborated style.

Turina was influenced by Albeniz and de Falla in his nationalistic Spanish pieces. The Piano Quartet is a fiery, impassioned work, but of no real depth. It is filled with expected Latin melody and rhythms pleasant to listen to. The piano was a strong protagonist; the strings held their own, but I'm afraid Turina's superficiality was in too great a contrast to the Bloch through no fault of the performers.

Through the interest of Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff photographs taken by Ernest Bloch and the original manuscript of his Second Quartet were on display at the reception following the performance.

Researcher Says No Job Really Safe

NEW YORK (UPI) — A noted cancer researcher discussing the dangers of the gas vinyl chloride to chemical workers says no job is really safe and office work is probably one of the most hazardous because of its lack of activity.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, co-chairman of a weekend conference on the vinyl chloride problem, said the plastic industry must lower vinyl chloride levels in plants, but not to the point that factories are shut down.

Vinyl chloride is the basic building block of vinyl plastics, and 17 cases of a rare liver cancer have been reported among people who worked in vinyl chloride plants around the world. Scientists say the stricken workers were probably exposed to much higher concentrations of the gas that now exist in most factories.

"There's no such thing as zero risk," Hammond said at a news conference after the meeting ended Saturday. "I want to get the risk down as low as feasible, so low that I wouldn't hesitate myself to take that employment. But I don't want to make it so low that I couldn't earn a living. There is no occupation that is really safe.

"One od the biggest occupational hazards with increasing death rates is probably office work," said Hammond, who also is vice president of the American CancerSociety. "A considerable proportion of a considerable number of studies have now shown that sedentary lack of activity increases the risk of coronary clot disease and stroke both —not tremendously, maybe 5 or 10 per cent.

"But 10 per cent of the death rate for stroke and heart disease combined in more than the total death rate from cancer."

Dr. Glenn E. Schweitzer, head of an environmental protection agency task force examining 10 plants which process vinyl chloride, said an estimated 200 million pounds of the gas escapes to the environment in the United States. He said if this is found to be a health hazard, the government is prepared to take action against the factories.

"We are very concerned that there is a significant amount of vinyl chloride going over the fence at the plants," he said. But he also noted that the vinyl plastics represent a $12 billion industry in the United States, and he said economics would have to be considered in any action against the industry.

Milk Drinking Makes Many In World Sick

KINGSTON, R.I. (UPI) — More than half of the world's population is unable to drink milk without eventually becoming ill, but a University of Rhode Island scientist says he has developed an enzyme additive that could help solve the problem.

Dr. Arthur G. Rand says the additive will make it possible for these people to digest lactose or milk sugar.

"Due to an enzyme deficiency, their bodies are not able to break down the sugar," he said. "Therefore, it builds up in the intestines producing bacteria, causing discomfort.

"Up to 90 per cent of the world's non-Caucasians have this problem. It is serious in the sense that 80 per cent of an adult's calcium needs are derived from milk," said Rand.

These people are mostly blacks and orientals, he said. "There are two schools of thought on this. First, it may be hereditary or it might be that these races originate from areas where milk is not a staple of the usual diet.

"This would explain why African tribesmen who herd dairy cattle can drink milk as well as I can, while another tribe which lives nearby but has no contact with cattle gets sick from the milk," said Rand's research assistant, James A. Hourigan, a graduate student from Australia.

The professor has been working on the enzyme project for four years. It grew out of a joint effort between the university and the Brown Medical Center.

"The people of Brown became concerned when some of their patients were unable to consume milk," he said.

The additive, created synthetically through organic chemistry, may soon be distributed to drug warehouses. It can be added directly to regular milk or milk producers can make their own line of low lactose milk products, Rand said. It can also be added to powdered milk.

The enzyme gives the milk an acidic taste which, Rand said, is not entirely objectionable. He said it would be ready for commercial production in the very near future.

Small Town Boasts Own Philharmonic

MARSHALL, Mo. (UPI) — This rural farm town has 13,000 residents, two banks, one high school and 10 markets. It also has a 65-piece philharmonic orchestra that specializes in Tchaikovsky and Wagner.

Marshall, whose newest industry is a hog slaughtering plant, takes its serious music seriously.

"It's an amateur organization, almost exclusively, but we think we've got one of the finest orchestras in mid Missouri," said W. Catron Gordon, a banker who could find only five or six sponsors for the orchestra's first season back in 1962.

Gordon started out as a flutist, but then learned to play the bassoon, the English horn and the oboe.

The program at a recent concert, held in the Marshall High School auditorium, included the overture from Von Weber's "Der Freischutz," Frescobaldi's "Toccata," Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty Waltz," Padilla's "El Relicario Paso Doble," Act III of Wagner's "Procession of the Meistersingers," "The Great Gate of Kiev" from Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition" and Waldteufel's "Less Patineurs Waltz."

The conductor is the retired music director at the high school, Harold L. Lickey, who agrees the program is heavy stuff for a rural community.

"Our strongest asset is our nucleus of local players who just love to play. They want to keep good, classical music alive in Marshall," Lickey said. "As conductor I try to get music that is of high quality but tuneful enough for our audience."

Most of the orchestra's members live in Marshall, 75 miles east of Kansas City. Many of its townspeople work at a plant which produces frozen dinners and hot pies.

Until this year, the orchestra was funded solely by patrons who contributed $25 or more toward the group's costs, which average about $3,000 a year. Gordon contributed a hefty lump of the sum each year. But the City Council has approved a property tax subsidy that will amount to about $2,000 in 1974.

Mrs. Gayle Thomas, a Marchall resident who never has attended a symphony concert, said townspeople are happy to support the classical group.

"For a town this size to have the talent that is exhibited in the orchestra makes us most fortunate," she said.

Trip To London Is An Accident

LONDON (UPI) — A funny thing happened to Mrs. Shirley McVay on her way home to Chicago from Los Angeles yesterday she arrived in London.

With her was her 2-year-old son, Bernardo.

Mrs. McVay, 29, said she happened to get on the wrong plane.

Army Corps Of Engineers Issues 12 New Permits

The Army Corps of Engineers in San Francisco has issued 12 permits in Marin and Southern Sonoma counties between Jan. 1 and March 31.

Permits were issued to: Stanford N. Diller for construction of two piers on Richardson Bay; the Marin County Department of Public Works for dredging, creek and levee repair on Richardson Bay; the city of San Rafael for fill at San Rafael Creek; Commodore Properties for fill, bulkhead and floating dock construction at Sausalito and Richardson Bays, and to Alameda Homes Corporation for levee repair on Novato Creek.

Permits also were granted to: the Marin County Department of Public Works for dredging in San Rafael and Gallinas creeks; Otis & Milner Company for construction of a floating dock on Corte Madera Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tomsick for construction of a home on the Tiburon Raccoon Strait; the Bahia Homeowners Association for buoys on the Petaluma River; Milton McDonogh for piles on Raccoon Strait; Industrial Way Assessment Corporation for a storm drainage system in San Rafael; and to Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company for bulkhead and rock fill on the Petaluma River.

Volunteers lay pipe at the site of the new Novato Boys' Club building on Wilson Avenue. The clubhouse is the result of eight years of work, planning and frustration by Novato residents interested in a club for boys in the community. Volunteers have raised more than $120,000 toward the project, mainly to be built by volunteer labor.

SEC Halts Franklin Stock Sales

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Securities and Exchange Commission today suspended trading in the common and preferred stocks of Franklin New York Corp. and its subsidiary, Franklin National Bank.

The company omitted its dividends, a virtually unheard of step in the banking industry, Friday and later disclosed that it had suffered losses of $14 million in the bank, mainly because of "unauthorized" foreign currency transactions."

Franklin New York also announced its board would meet today to make some management changes and that it would seek to raise $50 million in fresh capital by two stock rights offerings.

There also was talk in Wall Street that Franklin National might be taken over by another big bank. Manufacturers Hanover Trust, which loaned Franklin New York $30 million two months ago, was suggested in some banking circles as a possible merger partner.

The first rights offering would be for $30 million and the second for $20 mill on. Michele Sindona, the Milanese financier who owns 21 per cent of Franklin New York, said he would guarantee through his Fasco International Holdings SA to buy any of the new shares not subscribed by other stockholders or the public.

Proposed terms of the rights offerings, which must be registered with the SEC, were not disclosed.

In Washington, Charles Larson, an SEC official said trading in the stock was suspended at the request of Franklin New York. The initial suspension runs only for 72 hours, through Wednesday.

Late yesterday afternoon, the Federal Reserve Board offered to protect the financial position of Franklin National by loans of any amount for which the bank could provide collateral. Vice Chairman Charles Mitchell said the Reserve Board has been advised by the comptroller of the currency that Franklin National is in a solvent condition.

Franklin National said its losses on foreign currency operations, carried out in an unauthorized manner and without the knowledge of the bank's top management, amounted to $14 million as of Friday and exposed the bank to the risk of potentially larger losses. The statement said a substantial part of these losses may be covered by insurance. The bank did not identify the unauthorized trader nor did it describe the transactions.

Sidona also said he has asked former Treasury Secretary David Kennedy to serve as voting trustee nor his holdings in Franklin New York.

Franklin New York reported a slump in earnings for the first quarter of 1974 to $582,000 or 2 cents a share from $3.6 million or 68 cents a share a year earlier.

The Federal Reserve Board recently rejected Sidona's plea to merge his Talcott National Corp., a factoring and commercial finance house into Franklin National. Some banking circles saw in this rejection a view by the Fed that Franklin National in an overextended condition.

Poll Says Most Californians Are Disenchanted With Nixon

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A survey of California sentiment toward the resignation or impeachment of President Nixon found 41 per cent in favor of him leaving office, the California Poll said today.

Pollster Mervin Field said the survey of a sampling of the state's population between May 1 and May 7 found another 24 per cent who feel the President should not resign, but that Congress should proceed with the impeachment process. He said another 32 per cent felt Nixon should stay in office and the impeachment process should be halted.

"In sum," said the poll, "it appears that today about 65 per cent of the public would like either to see a presidential resignation, or to have his tenure in office decided by Congress."

Just 16 months ago President Nixon carried California by a landslide vote when he won reelection.

The latest California Poll was taken after Nixon's public disclosure of the transcriptions of Watergate tape recordings.

Fifty-five per cent of Californians told pollsters they believed Nixon knew and approved of the Watergate affair, or that he took an active part in the planning. Another 32 per cent felt he at least must have had some idea of what was going on. Only 8 per cent believed he knew nothing at all about Watergate.

The poll said that fewer than one in five Californians think Nixon is doing a good job as President. The number who think he is doing a poor job is at an unprecedented high of 49 per cent, the poll said.

Teen-Ager Hurt In Cycle Crash

A San Rafael teen-ager was injured yesterday when his motorcycle collided head on with another motorcycle on a dirt track near San Rafael.

Peter R. Mahan, 16, of 19 Merrydale Road, suffered a neck sprain and head injury. He was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Mahan's cycle and one driven by Robert Dale, 18, of 1204 Saint Joseph Street, Petaluma, collided at 1:15 p.m. on a privately owned track south of San Pedro road, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The drivers were traveling in opposite directions and hit at the crest of a slight hill, the highway patrol reported. Dale was not hurt.

Business College Home Is Dedicated

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The University of San Francisco dedicated a new $1 million home yesterday for its college of business administration.

The center, which occupies 24,500 square feet of classroom, auditorium, office and lounge space, is named for retired San Francisco accounting executive N. Loyall McLaren.

PAUL FRITZSCHE sits in the library of his San Rafael home hwere his collection of 11,000 cook books is housed. Fritzsche has been collecting cook books for 20 years and has manuscripts dating back to the 15th Century.

COOKBOOK COLLECTION

From Gourmet To Plain Old Grub

By JOAN LISETOR

If Paul Fritzsche 'read one cookbook from his collection every two days it would take him 60 years to complete the task. The collection in the library of his San Rafael home contains 11,000 books, the oldest dating back to 1530.

The collection is insured for $65,000.

He has paid anywhere from 10 cents to $200 for a book. Among his most treasured finds are an original German manuscript done in 1545 and a 16th Century parchment manuscript written in quill pen for which he paid $2 and is now valued at $1,500.

Fritzsche said he started collecting cookbooks because of an interest in cooking. He began with a secondhand book dealer in Arizona, who was going out of business. That was in 1954.

"I've stopped buying. Oh, I buy every once in a while if I see a recipe that I want," he said.

The books are categorized by country, from Australia to Yugoslavia; by food, from apples to zabaglione; history of foods; and old books.

WHEN FRITZSCHE moved to San Rafael from Cleveland last year he had the books packed in 297 whiskey boxes.

"Whiskey boxes are the best for moving and storing. The only thing that damages books is if they dry out, which they won't do if they are packed tightly," he said.

Fritzsche reads cook books the way others read novels, except when he is looking for a recipe.

From the books he has picked up several antecdotes. There are stories about chefs committing suicide when a meal was not perfect, and he tells about a salmon being brought ceremoniously into a banquet and being dropped. It seems the salmon was dropped "accidentally on purpose," and another salmon was brought out.

"THERE ARE very old recipes for 1,000 beef at one dinner," he said. "It's amazing that everybody didn't die of food poisoning because they cooked weeks in advance. They used handsful of herbs to cover up the smell and taste of tainted meat or fish," he said.

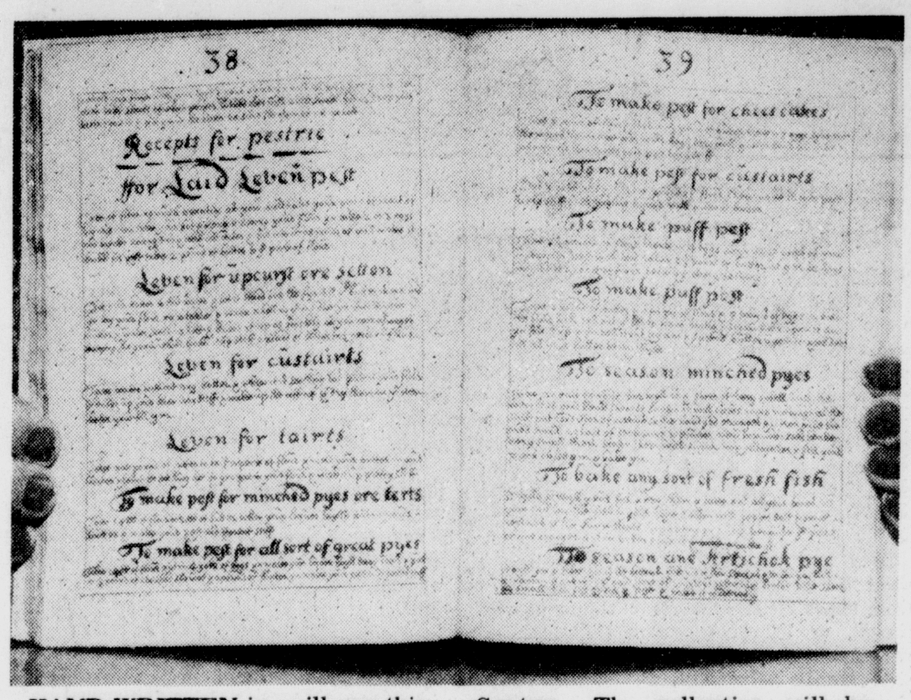
A retired executive, Fritzsche is a director of the board of Notre Dame College for Women in Cleveland, where he is building the Clara Fritzsche Library in memory of his mother. He has donated 1;374 books to the library.

According to Fritzsche, the best cook book ever written is Irma Rambauer's "Joy of Cooking."

"Everybody steals from everybody else," he said. "There are no original recipes anymore. The only difference is in how you prepare."

With all of his books there was a time Fritzxche was looking for a recipe he couldn't find.

"Imagine, I found a recipe for wild boar, but I couldn't find one for sturgeon," he said.



HAND WRITTEN in quill pen this old English cook book from Paul Fritzche's collection contains recipes for pestrie (pastry), custairts (custards), minched pyes (minced pies), artichok pye (artichoke pie) and other delicacies of the 17th Century. The collection will be open to the public May 20 through June 1 on Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Fritsche will personally conduct the tours from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Cookbook Tours Start May 20

Paul Fritzsche will conduct tours of his cookbook collection beginning May 20 on Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. through June 1.

Proceeds from the tours will be donated to the Forest Meadows Center of the Arts.

San Rafael Woman Is State Officer In PEO

Janice K. Peterson of San Rafael has been elected second vice president of California State Chapter, OEP. A 10-year member of the sisterhood, she has been a member of the state executive board for four years.

PEO's purpose is to promote education for women, primarily high education and to provide scholarships and loans toward this goal, according to Mrs. Peterson. PEO has five chapters in Marin County.

A native of Portland, Ore., she is a graduate of Whitman College in Walla, Walla, Wash., with a degree in biology. She also did graduate work at Stanford University.

She is the wife of Neal A. Peterson, a research biochemist. They have lived in Marin for eight years and have two children, Craig, 14, and Carol, 12. Her hobbies are sewing, handwork, gardening and family activities.

To Prevent Smears

Kitchen stainless steel areas are best cleaned with a detergent solution and then wiped dry to prevent water marks or smears.

June Rites Are Planned By Couple

The engagement of Jane Ann Smith of San Rafael and Bruce Eric Iverson, also of San Rafael, has been announced. The couple plan to be married June 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Neiderholzer in Kentfield.

Jane is the sister of John C. Smith of San Rafael, Michael and Virginia Smith of Sonoma and Robert E. Smith of Oregon. A graduate of Redwood High School, she attended the College of Marin and California State University, San Francisco, and is employed by the Independent-Journal.

Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lefren Iverson of Tiburon. He is the brother of Steve Iverson and the grandson of Mmes. Elizabeth Iverson of Novato and Jessie Kingdon of San Rafael.

Also a Redwood High School graduate, he attended the College of Marin and is employed by Paul's Liquors in San Rafael.

ON THE AGENDA

17th Annual Retta Clarkson Silver Tea Is On Wednesday

The 17th annual silver tea of Retta Clarkson of Novato will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Mort May in Novato.

Formerly, Mrs. Clarkson prepared the refreshments and headed the tea for the United Presbyterian Women, to raise funds for the association.

Later, the UPW members assisted at the tea, and now they continue to have the tea, which gives Mrs. Clarkson, a resident of the Novato Estates Retirement Home, an opportunity to see her many firends in the community.

Mrs. James Nye is chairman for the tea and the hostess is Mrs. May.

Pouring are Mmes. Warren Clark, William Van Winkle, Ilion Jones, E. C. Legion, Donald Rayment, Norman Bryan, Murl Mahler, and May. Coffee chairman is Mrs. Frederick Klein.

In charge of the guest book will be Mmes. J. Hudson Ballard, Phillip Hicks and Nathan Kaufman.

Also helping will be Mmes. Jerry Mason, Nye, Van Winkle, Ralph Gerrard, William Glazner, John Tautges, Donald Ward and W. Stanley Nordstrom.

SUPERVISOR ARNOLD Baptiste will speak on "Open Space" at the meeting of the Novato Newcomers Club at the Alvarado Inn in Ignacio.

A social hour is set for 11 a.m., followed by luncheon at noon. Mmes. Richard J. Murphy and Robert Ware are reservations chairmen for the event.

THE ECOLOGY trips of the fifth grade classes will be the topic of the McKinley Parent-Teacher Association family workshop May 15 at 7 p.m. in the school's multi use room, 110 Ellis Street, Petaluma.

Speakers will be Alfred Walker, principal, and teachers Patricia Kennedy and Sandi Augustine.

Miss Kennedy and Mrs. Augustine will discuss the ecology trip the classes took to the Laguna Ranch at Point Reyes National Seashore.

Walker, a member of the board of directors of the Laguna Ranch Environmental Education Committee, will speak about the overall program of ecology trips which have included the Laguna Ranch, the Bear Valley Earthquake Trail and the Old Adobe in Petaluma.

THE LAST meeting for the season of the Garden Section of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley will be a trip by chartered bus to the Sunset magazine House and Gardens in Menlo Park on Thursday.

Members and guests will meet at 9 a.m. at the club, and return by 3 p.m. They will have luncheon at the Allied Arts Guild in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Frank Bennett of Mill Valley is chairman.

MRS. HAIG Albarian will be the guest speaker at the noon luncheon meeting the Santa Tosa Christian Women's Club, Wednesday at Los Robles Lodge in Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Albarian is a former airline hostess and the wife of a peninsula orthodontist.

A special feature of the program will be "Japanese Cultural Artistry in Motion" demonstrated by Japanese foreign students. The Etude Club Choral Group will provide music.

Reservations chairmen are Mmes. William S. Slyker of Santa Rosa and Herbert Louden of Petaluma. Mrs. Ted Hagman will preside. Nursery care will be provided from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Christian Life Center, 415 Steele Lane.

AN OUTDOOR luncheon will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry B. Newhall in Stinson Beach by the Marin County Retired Officers Wives Club Wednesday at 11:30 a.m. Afterward the members will tour the Audubon Canyon Ranch at Bolinas to view the nesting of the Egrets and Blue Herons.

Mrs. Harry G. Lund of San Rafael is reservations chairman.

JACK HAYES, principal, will speak on the past year and future plans for the school at the Sir Francis Drake High School Parent-Teacher Association meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the school.

Candidates for the Tamalpais Union High School District board of trustees have been invited to attend. A prior business meeting will consider an increase of P-TA dues for next year.

VINE VILLAGE Women's Auxiliary will have a public bridge-luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Wallace Sommers, 170 Tioga Lane, Greenbrae. The event, a benefit for Vine Village in Sonoma County, will begin at 11 a.m.

Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Gerald Good of San Rafael and Walter Hall of Tiburon.

SAN RAFAEL Co-operative Nursery School will present a reading program by John Cressey of the DeWitt Reading Institute at 8 p.m. Thursday. The public program will be held at the Sir Francis Drake High School little theater in San Anselmo.

Cressey will speak on learning disabilities and what parents and teachers should know about them.

MARIN ALPHA Delta Pi Alumnae will join sorority sisters from the Bay Area to celebrate Alpha Delta Pi founders day on Wednesday at Diablo Country Club.

Contra Costa County alumnae are hosting the celebration and national president of Alpha Delta Pi, Maxine Blake, is expected to attend.

A social hour at 11:30 a.m. will be followed by luncheon and the program. The sorority was founded at Wesley Female College (now Wesleyan) in Macon, Ga., in 1851.

A FILM, "Geel: A Changing Tradition," will be shown at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Olney Hall of the College of Marin in the series sponsored weekly by the Marin Association for Mental Health. Made for Swedish television, the film depicts the Flemish town which is the oldest center of home care for the mentally ill in the Western world.

Discussion leaders after the film showing will be Dr. Robert Taylor, program chief of the Community Mental Health Service, and Assemblyman John Burton.

Marin Women

Scholarship To Honor Mrs. Frances Compton

A fellowship will be given by Marin Branch, American Association of University Women, in the name of Mrs. Frances Compton of Kentfield.

Mrs. Compton was chosen as the Name Grant Award recipient for her contributions to the branch and to AAUW over a period of time and in various capacities, according to Mrs. Joseph Turina of San Rafael, chairman of fellowships for the branch.

Her development of the Legislative Section of the branch has led to an annual intensive study of state and local government. She is the founder of the branch's Civic Center Day in Marin County and has been chairman of Day in Sacramento trips, when members meet with their representatives and attend committee hearings. She is past chairman of the Status of Women Section of the branch and has been appointed to the newly formed Marin County Status of Women Commission. Mrs. Compton is also president of the board of trustees of the College of Marin and on the board of directors of the New Voter Education Foundation.

Best Method

Kitchen chopping blocks should be kept scrupulously clean, since they absorb moisture, advises the Soap and Detergent Association. Scour with a stiff brush after every use, and give the block a periodic bleaching to remove stains, using three-quarters of a cup of liquid chlorine bleach to a gallon of warm water. Then rinse and dry. A coat of salad oil will help restore the rich look to the wood.

Over 30 Years Experience In Nutrition

HERE'S HEALTH!

By JUNE EMBURY

"RESTRICTION OF CALORIES PROLONGS LIFE"

Scientists keep talking about it. And personal experience convinces us it's true: As we grow older, many of us could cut down on food intake to great advantage. Even on supplements in some cases. Calories and amounts need decreasing. But nutritional quality should be upgraded and increased.

Specialists in aging (gerontologists) say that high calorie diets makes us grow old faster. So does malnutrition, which can occur when we get too many calories, but too little nourishment from "junk" foods! Next week, a diet approach of our own. It's keeping us feeling great while we lose a few unwanted pounds.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Daughters Show A Preference For Their Rich Grandparents

DEAR HELEN:

My two daughters are close to one set of grandparents who have a great deal of money and spoil them lavishly. These are my parents.

The other grandparents would be just as generous if they could afford it, but they can't, and are very aware of this. They're fine, loving people.

They are constantly hurt when the grandchildren show them things the other set have bought, or tell of expensive restaurants, shows, etc.

At family gatherings, my daughters show a great preference for the rich grandparents. What can I do? — MOTHER IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR MIM:

Seems to me this would be a fine opportunity for teaching your children to accept people for what they are, not for what their money can buy.

No matter how young your daughters, they can learn tact.

Explain the circumstances, let them know how the less wealthy grandparents feel, ask them how they would feel if their friends showed they preferred rich kids. And emphasize that both sets of relatives love them equally, but show it in different ways.

Perhaps a word to the wealthy grandparents might help. If they have generous spirits, they'll share the grandchildren. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My widowed mother has a small fortune in jewels my father bought for her. But he lost his money at the end, and left her with nothing else — not even a home or insurance.

She could easily sell these jewels and live very comfortably off the income, but she has some neurotic fixation about keeping them.

Instead, she prefers to live with and off my husband and me, and comforts her conscience with the thought that she is leaving us her jewels which will more than pay us back. She's 58 and healthy.

Can you think of any way I can get her to part with these stones, move out, and make a life for herself? — M.G.

DEAR M.:

Perhaps the best (though slowest) way is to gradually push your mother into a life of her own, via part-time work, friends, clubs, hobbies, etc. When she discovers that living by herself will not be frightening — that many others her age enjoy it — she may decide for a jewelry sale and a nearby apartment.

I'd guess it isn't so much attachment to her jewels as fear of being alone that keeps her tied to her daughter's apron strings. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We were shocked at "Homeowner's" story. How could she be fined by the city, when devilish boys got into her back yard and drowned her cat in the swimming pool? I suppose the parents made a big stink about an "attractive nuisance" and "Homeowner" couldn't plead her case without an expensive lawyer.

In our state, there are strict penalties for cruelty to animals. Any citizen can file a complaint, and the Humane Society will help them. Perhaps Homeowner's state isn't as concerned as New Jersey, but she should still have contacted someone who would have fought her case . . . and who would have seen to it that the boys have proper treatment. They sound sick to me! — MEMBER OF NEW JERSEY HUMANE SOCIETY

DEAR HELEN:

That "attractive nuisance" law as described by "Homeonwer" can create many hardships. I know a couple who were sued for thousands of dollars because neighborhood boys set their car (in their driveway) on fire, demolishing it, and in the process, were slightly burned. — FOR CHANGING THE LAW

Betty West Will Lead Convention

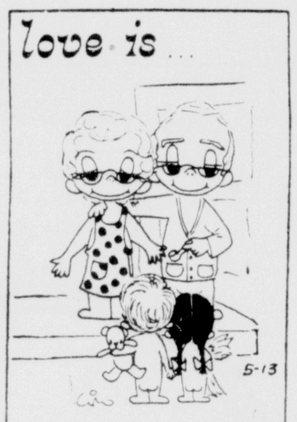
Betty L. West of Novato will preside at the 40th annual state convention of the Legal Secretaries, Inc., to open Friday at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in San Francisco.

Serving her second term as state president, Mrs. West will introduce San Francisco Bar Association president E. Robert Wallach for the keynote address on Saturday. A general meeting and election of officers will follow and a banquet will be held that night with San Francisco Superior Court Judge Ira A. Brown as master of ceremonies.

Workshops Friday will feature Dean Gordon D. Schaber of McGeorge School of Law in Sacramento, Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, and Dr. Mina M. Johnson of California State University, San Francisco.

A Sunday brunch will feature San Francisco Municipal Court Judge Agnes O'Brien Smith as speaker. A Legal Secretary of the Year award will be made at the brunch, and officers will be installed.

Some 600 legal secretaries from throughout the state are expected at the three-day meeting.



MONEY MATTERS

Takes Work To Make Freezer Pay

By ROBERT EDWARDS
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

Home freezers are again available after panic buying swept dealer showrooms clean last summer. Families bought freezers at almost any price to store away supplies of meat when beef, pork, and lamb threatened to disappear.

While freezer advocates stoutly maintain that they feed their families better for less money with a freezer, a cold dollar-and-cents look casts a few doubts. I won't argue with the "better" part of the claim. But, a family must work with a freezer to make it pay cash dividends.

Costs of operating a home freezer were minutely calculated several years ago by economists at the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Cost items include the freezer itself — $200-$400. Yearly depreciation on a 15-cubic-foot freezer, including interest lost, would cost about $25 a year.

If you financed the freezer's purchase, the cost would be still higher — about $28 to $30 a year.

Repairs and electricity add another $45 to $70 per year, depending on the quantity of food stored. The more food that is reduced from room temperature to 0 degrees F., the more electricity is used. Wrapping to protect foods from dehydration and freezer burn adds another 7 to 10 cents per pound for meats — less for bread and other foods.

AT TODAY'S prices, the cost of storing 400 pounds of food each year would total about 19½ cents per pound. Using the freezer mainly for long-term storage, as a rate of 400 pounds a year implies, can be costly. But if you move food into and out of the freezer regularly with a complete turnover every three months, the cost of freezing and storing 1,600 pounds of food each year falls to about a dime a pound.

Two facts fall out of this analysis: First, you need to buy food at a minimum of 10 cents a pound less during special sales — or grow your own — to break even with a freezer. Second, only by keeping food flowing in and out of the freezer can you keep costs reasonable.

For example, suppose you buy half a steer and store it in your home freezer for use over six to nine months. You would need to buy all cuts of beef at an average of 15 cents a pound less than the cost of comparable fresh meat in the store to break even — and that's tough to do.

According to a survey in and around Fort Wayne, Ind., farm and nonfarm families stored mostly meat and bakery products in their freezers. Yet, one of the commonly cited reasons for keeping a freezer was to preserve farm and garden produce during the season for later use. Strawberries, for example, can be picked during the season and frozen far more easily than they can be cooked and canned.

A COST-EFFECTIVE solution for long-term storage of once-a-year crops is a frozen-food locker. One locker holding 12 cubic feet of food (about 375 pounds) rents for $21 a year in one city — less than the yearly cost of electricity for a home freezer. Prices will vary around the country, of course, but six cents a pound for a year is hard to beat. Look in the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory to find a food locker representative.

Typically, you need a small freezer or a large freezer section of a combination refrigerator/freezer to use daily in combination with a frozen food locker. Otherwise, your many trips to a locker cancel any dollar savings.

Convenience, while hard to put a dollar figure on, may be worth more than dollar cost savings to busy homemakers. If that's true for you, a freezer can provide convenience and still pay its keep when you:

Cook several meals at a time, then store them away for later. Spaghetti sauce, for example, requires hours of cooking. You might as well cook up enough for a dozen meals at one time. Frozen in meal-size plastic containers, the sauce can be warmed and served within minutes. Do the same with soup, beans, and stews. Cook-ahead meals save both cooking time and fuel.

CONSERVE LEFTOVERS. Instead of serving turkey dishes for days after a Thanksgiving feast, freeze slices in chicken broth, make up a turkey a la king in a white sauce, or freezer turkey bits and stuffing in a casserole ready to pop in the oven for a hurry-up meal. Chicken and turkey leftovers quickly turn stale if refrigerated; freeze them instead.

Shop aggressively for meat and bread savings to make a freezer pay its rent. When a particularly good price for ground beef appears, buy 10 or 20 pounds — then use it rather than store it. If a day-old bread store is a bit out of the way, buy 20 loaves on a trip and freeze them. But use them quickly. Otherwise, the cost of storage will cancel your savings.

Elizabeth F. Gordon Will Be A July Bride

ELIZABETH F. GORDON
July wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gordon are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Faye Gordon of Novato, to Matthew James Bushong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bushong of San Rafael.

Elizabeth is the sister of Margaret, Patricia, Richard and Donald Gordon. She is the granddaughter of Elizabeth Sparkes of Eudora, Kan., and Mr. and Mrs. John Steed of DeSoto, Kan.

She will be graduated from Novato High School in June and will attend the College of Marin. She is employed at Wells Fargo Bank in Ignacio.

Matthew is the brother of Michelle, Mariette and Mark Bushong, and his grandparents are Mrs. P. B. Bushong of Los Angeles and Mrs. Ann Kenney of Monte Rio. He was graduated from Terra Linda High School and is attending College of Marin, majoring in administration of justice. He is employed at Ray's Delicatessen in Mill Valley.

The couple plan to be married on July 13.

Linda Chatfield Becomes Bride Of Michael Donnelly

Linda Chatfield of Ignacio became the bride of Michael Donnelly of Reno, Nev., in a ceremony May 4 at Lewis and Clark College Chapel in Portland, Ore.

A reception followed at Alpine Lodge in Hood River.

The daughter of Col. and Mrs. Homer Chatfield of Ignacio, Linda is a graduate of Terra Linda High School, Lewis and Clark College and received the master of social work degree from Michigan State University. She is the sister of Carol White of Portland, Ore.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Donnelly of Reno are Michael's parents. The brother of Maureen Donnelly of Michigan and Mark, Bridget, Patrick and Kathleen Donnelly, all of Reno.

Michael attended Michigan State University.

In Honor Society

Janet C. Kenworthy of Kentfield was installed into Phi Theta Kappa honor society for junior colleges at Endicott Junior College in Beverly, Mass. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bruce Kenworthy of Kentfield.

Novato AAUW Officers Elected

Newly-elected officers of the Novato Branch, American Association of University Women, are Mmes. Robert Rettig, first vice president and program chairman; John Christman, second vice president and membership chairman; and Scott Loring, treasurer;

Continuing in office for the year are Mmes. Eugene de Brecht, president; David Coyle, recording secretary; and Barney Griswold, corresponding secretary.

Two Bleach Types For Home Laundering

There are two types of bleach for home laundering — chlorine and oxygen. Both work through an oxidizing process whereby the chemical release of chlorine or oxygen activates the bleaching process, the Soap and Detergent Association reports.

Chlorine bleaches are the heavy duty members of the team and are found either in liquid or dry form. Liquid chlorine bleaches are the least expensive and most widely used. Best results are achieved by carefully reading directions on the bottle before using, measuring accurately and following proper procedures. The use of a standard measuring cup or spoon is essential.

Take To Cleaners

Don't try to use fabric spot removers on fur — take it to the furrier for cleaning. The same advice goes for small rips and tears.

Fashion Show Is Wednesday

The annual spring luncheon and fashion show sponsored by the San Domenico Alumnae Council and the Service League of San Domenico will be held Wednesday at noon on the campus of the school in San Anselmo.

Chairmen are Mmes. Donald C. Smith and Jerome F. Downs. Committee chairmen are Mmes. Paul V. Melodia and Richard B. Madden, luncheon; David Powell and Lloyd Postel, reception; Dennis Ciocca and C. Harold Caulfield Jr., decorations; William Asbell and Kleve Johnson, reservation; Leland Sweeney and Edgar T. Lindner, models; John W. Hunter, favors; Thomas Caddell, invitations and program; and Joseph G. Calegari, public relations. Dick Doughty will be the commentator of the fashion show.

Marin women who will model fashions from Female Plumage Boutique in San Rafael are Mmes. John W. Hunter, Robert J. Clark, Lindner, Gery Gomez and Frank McCormack.

How To Maintain Correct Coolness

The trick to conserving energy with your refrigerator-freezer is in remembering one thing: it doesn't cool by blowing cold air in.

UNORGANIZED COMPETITION

The New Games Are Fun Games

By PAUL CANE

One does not have to be young — merely young at heart — to enjoy New Games. (See photo, page 1).

The contests included some all-time children's favorites, like tug-of-war, hula-hopping, capture the flag, and volleyball, but the contestants were mainly adults this weekend in the second New Games Tournament, held at the Gerbode Preserve west of Sausalito.

On rolling, grassy hillsides near Fort Cronkhite, folk from all over the Bay Area gathered to join in games and competition, some traditional but many unusual, and all loose, happy, and gay.

"This is the nicest thing that has happened to me this year," said Sarah Fisk, 17, of Mill Valley. "I like it because of its complete lack of organization. It's people just out here having a good time, and things are happening spontaneously."

Organizer Pat Farrington said competition was not necessarily the main purpose of the event, but rather appreciation of the countryside, to "make people aware of the resource, the preserve, and how they might use it."

Marian Roche of San Francisco, one of the workers from the sponsoring Point Foundation, was having a problem tossing a burlap sack filled with straw over a crossbar placed about 20 feet above the ground.

She grasped the sack firmly, whirled it around like a hammer thrower preparing for a heave, and said, "This is really cool. Part of the money made from the "Whole Earth Catalog" was recycled into this event, and it's great the number of people that are here."

She cut loose with her sack. "Get over," she screamed. The wind blew the sack back in her face.

"Drat," she said.

Most games were not like this one, however, because nearly all pitted one person against another in a little friendly competition.

More than 1,000 participants came by the busload from all over Northern California for the first weekend of New Games. The tournament will conclude next weekend with two more days of action from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Chartered buses brought many from San Francisco, and shuttle buses leaving from the Big G market in North Sausalito and the ferry terminal on Lower Bridgeway brought those who came by car to the games site. No parking was allowed near the preserve, nor will be next weekend.

Several tugs-of-war were held, and there were traditional relays, games of tag, and Frisbee football.

But several more exotic contests were also on display. Things like earthball, infinity ball, dho-dho-dho, boffing and pass-the-bod occupied the sunny afternoon for many of the participants.

Several people were knocked down by uncontrolled laughter while boffing. "It's a helluva way to get your frustrations out, trying to hit somebody with this swishy thing," said Jim Dunlap of Belmont while warily advancing to mete out a blow at his girlfriend, Geri Bielar. "Like the organizers say, we play hard, play fair, and don't get hurt."

As he turned to speak, Miss Bielar sneaked up and knocked his glasses off with a boff from her sword. "Gotcha that time," she cried.

Several arguments arose on judgment calls by the referee in a game called "dho-dho-dho." Members of opposing teams squared off on opposite side of a neutral zone, attempted to rush across the line, tag an opponent, and scamper back across before being tackled, all while chanting, "Dho, dho, dho. . ."

Another game consisted of sitting opposite an opponent on a sawhorse-like tree trunk, and attempting to bop one's adversary with a sack of straw so he would fall from his perch into a cushion-filled pit.

Despite the relatively safe weapons used in the various games, a first-aid truck was set up near the entrance, and cars stood ready if needed to cart the injured to hospitals. A worker at the first-aid station said the only injury so far had been a possible broken foot. "But we've given out a lot of Allerest," she added.

Candidates

About 20 candidates in the June primary election will speak at San Rafael High School Auditorium between 8:20 a.m. and noon Wednesday.

Accused Slayer To Be Arraigned

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A 25-year-old postal truck driver accused of slaying a supermarket employe and assaulting his wife will be arraigned tomorrow.

Police said the suspect, Angelo Pavageau, lived in the same block where Frank Carlson, 25, and his wife, Annette, 24, owned a restored Victorian home in the Potrero Hill district.

Carlson was slain in his home April 19 by a man who then raped and beat his wife and stole several pieces of jewelry before setting the house on fire. Mrs. Carlson is still hospitalized.

Pavageau was charged Saturday with murder, rape, robbery, assault and arson.

Authorities were led to the suspect when a jeweler recognized one of the stolen rings, said homicide inspector Ken Manley.

GM Workers Walk Off Jobs In Local Contract Disputes

DETROIT (UPI) — More than 5,300 United Auto Workers members walked off the job at two General Motors Corp. plants today in labor disputes over new local contracts to supplement a national agreement reached last November.

The strikes by some 4,000 workers at the Fisher Body Fleetwood plant in Detroit and 1,360 workers at the Terex division plant in Hudson, Ohio, was in addition to a local strike under way since Friday night at GM's Leeds, Mo., assembly plant.

The strikebound plants are among 28 of 145 bargaining units still without the local agreements that cover issues not covered in the national contract.

The key issue at the Fleetwood plant in Detroit was work standards. With more than 700 workers still on indefinite layoffs, GM planned to step up its production of Cadillac and Oldsmobile Toronados by about 80 a day and the union complained not enough workers were being recalled from layoffs.

The Fleetwood strike was expected to cause the adjacent Cadillac assembly plant, with about 5,000 workers to close before the end of the day when it runs out of bodies.

Besides the three plants already closed, GM faces a possible strike by 1,200 workers at the Fisher Body engineer section at the GM Technical Center in Warren, Mich.

About 1,800 workers at GM's New Departure-Hyatt Bearings division plant at Sandusky, Ohio, returned to their jobs last night after ratifying a new local agreement that ended a dispute that began last Wednesday.

185 Mothers Attend Service At Prison

They first attended worship services and then had breakfast together in the mess hall. Afterwards, the mothers and sons visited outside in the sunshine.

Only Husband To Stand Trial

Only Donald William Rodriguez, 22, of Larkspur, and not his wife, Laura Lee Rodriguez, 21, faces trial the week of June 10 in Marin Superior Court on two counts of possessing stolen property.

Although both were bound over to superior court following a preliminary hearing, the district attorney's office did not charge Mrs. Rodriguez due to lack of evidence, according to Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael A. Gridley.

The Independent-Journal reported last week that both were to stand trial.

By popular demand, United announces the return of the picnic basket for West Coast flyers.

Our West Coaster flights to Seattle and Portland are a picnic again. With basket lunches that overflow with good, wholesome summer stuff. Like a sandwich, some chicken, maybe a little potato salad, pickles and more.

STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING POLITICAL ADVERTISING

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group and their address.

All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the prevailing flat rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday by 4 p.m., Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning by 11:00 a.m. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

Celtics Rebirth Gives Havlicek Thrill

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — John Havlicek likes to talk about the rebirth of the Boston Celtics.

He's one of the few Celtics who played both in the glory years and in the years when things weren't going so good for Boston.

The "new Celtics" came of age yesterday when they beat the Milwaukee Bucks 102-87 to win their 12th National Basketball Association title, four games to three.

"This title gives me greater satisfaction than any of the others," Havlicek said. "I was a part of the rebirth of this team.

"We used to look at Bill Russell for all the leadership and inspiration," he said. "But now these guys look to me and it gives me a very, very good feeling."

The Celtics won the title in one of the most exciting series in recent years. It is the first time in four years the finals have gone a full seven games.

"If there were any kids who want to learn how to play basketball they should have been watching this series," Boston center Dave Cowens said. "It was just magnificent all the way."

At times during the series, the basketball was right out of a textbook. Yesterday the Celts took advantage of the fact that the Bucks don't have an outside shooter and sagged on Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

The Milwaukee center finished with 26 points, but he had none in the second quarter when the Celtics built a big lead, and only three in the final period when the Bucks threatened briefly.

"We just didn't have the perimeter shooters to force them out of that defense," Coach Larry Costello of Milwaukee said. "We just didn't have anyone who could hit that middle range jump shot."

Both teams admitted they were a little weary from the double overtime 102-101 Milwaukee win in Boston Friday night. But the Bucks were unable to shake their lethargy, while Boston found something extra.

The Celtics found what they needed late in the game after the Bucks rallied from a 17 point deficit to come within three points of a tie.

With the score 71-68, Boston got eight straight points from four different men to take a 79-68 lead and Milwaukee was done.

The victory was worth $100,000 to the Celtics and built their post-season earning total to $215,000.

The Bucks got $65,000 as losers and wound up with $220,000 for post-season play. Milwaukee's total was just short of the 1972 record pool of $224,000 won by the Los Angeles Lakers.

250 Compete In Olympics

Giants' Fox Moans About Batting Woes

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "We haven't been hitting well at all on this road trip," moaned San Francisco manager Charlie Fox after his Giants managed split of yesterday's doubleheader against the Atlanta Braves.

Fox had a point as his team was held to three hits in the opener by Atlanta right-hander Carl Morton as the Braves won 5-1. However, the Giants came up with the big inning in the nightcap to win 6-2 and take three of the four games in Atlanta. The Giants won Saturday, 8-7.

In the opener Dave Johnson knocked in a pair of runs for the Braves and Darryl Evans stroked three hits while Henry Aaron stroked his 721st career homer, helping Morton cruise to his fourth victory in seven decisions.

"It was the best stuff I've had since opening day," said Morton, who had a no-hitter until Dave Kingman singled with one out in the sixth inning.

The second game was deadlocked at 2-2 with Kingman and Atlanta's Rowland Office each slamming solo homers until the eighth.

A walk to Bonds, Chris Speier's single and a passed ball preceded Atlanta shortstop Craig Robinson's error on Tito Fuentes bouncer, sending across the tie-breaking run. Garry Maddox then doubled in two more runs and another came in on a sacrifice fly by Gary Matthews.

The Giants had only six hits to Atlanta's 11 in the nightcap but Fox said: "It's not the first time we've won with fewer hits than the other team. You can win that way if you get the hits at the right time."

The Giants continue their road trip, heading for a 5 p.m. game today in Cincinnati, which will be televised on Channel 2.

San Rafael Is 'B' Champion

RICHMOND — The harvest was every bit as rich and full as San Rafael High School had hoped.

The Bulldogs of coach Bill Ranney won the North Coast Section Class B swimming championship here Saturday, churning through the Kennedy High School pool for six records.

San Rafael compiled 194½ points to end the three-year reign of Ygnacio Valley of Concord, which was second with 156½. Terra Linda was third with 131.

Marin did not fare as well in varsity, having dropped many of its top swimmers to "B" for post-season meets.

San Rafael's Scott Hislop set records in winning the 200 and 500-yard freestyles in 1:46.2 and 4:49.8, respectively. Ken DeMont shattered records in the 100 free (49.4) and 100 back (56.2).

Each swam on the record-setting 400 free relay (3:21.1), joining Jeff Kamler and Mike Keck. The 200 medley relay of Kamler, Joe Dunn, Bob Placak and Keck did a record 1:46.4.

By TOM THOMPSON

Girls track has come into its own in the Marin County Athletic League.

The girls took advantage of near perfect weather to set four records and tie three more, to highlight the MCAL track and field finals Saturday at the College of Marin.

And Redwood High School's Darrell Elder broke his own varsity discus record for the second time in a week with a heave of 186-3, besting his mark of last Tuesday of 182-9 in the MCAL trials. Elder also took a first in the shot put, just 11½ inches short of Giant Steve McGee's 1971 record of 56-11.

The only other varsity record broken was also by a Redwood field man. Mark Kilmer recorded a 45-6½ triple jump, to break the mark of 44-8½ set last week by Fred Adams of Tamalpais. No Class B records were set.

With a 100-11 effort in the girls discus, Pat Perry of Redwood shattered that record, set last Wednesday by Erin Hopp of Novato (99-3½). In the 80-yard low hurdles, Kathy Hagler broke Terra Linda's Kathy Oates mark by one tenth of a second at 11.5.

The most impressive girls records were set in the sprints. Sandy Rapatz of San Rafael bested her own record in the 100-yard dash set last Tuesday at 11.2, clocking in at 11.0. She then came back in the 220 to tie her own record of 26.2 set this year. Terra Linda's 440 relay team also broke a record, with a time of 50.9, breaking Redwood's 1973 mark of 51.8.

Kate Keyes of Tamalpais equalled her own record of last year in the mile, with a 5:21.5 clocking. Carey Hill of San Rafael tied Redwood's Linda Daum's two-year-old mark in the high jump of 5-0.

A large crowd of 700 was treated to several other surprises in the varsity. Novato, which finished seventh in the final MCAL standings, made an impressive showing in the non-scoring meet, behind two double winners. Hornet Tom Bridges won the 120 high hurdles (15.0) and the 100 with a time of 9.9.

Novato's George Cagle took the 880 and 440 with times of 1:57.3 and 50.1, respectively.

In what was probably the most exciting race of the day, Novato, anchored by Bridges, came up with an upset victory in the 440 relay. The Hornets edged one of the favorites, Drake, at the wire, with both teams clocking in at 45.1. Tam was also in the race, just a tenth of a second back. Favored San Marin was disqualified.

The top four placers in each event qualified for the Division III meet Saturday at Santa Rosa Junior College. Top five were eligible for ribbons.

IN A.L. WEST RACE

A's Depth Begins To Pay Off

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland A's' depth is beginning to make an impression in the American League West race.

With both Reggie Jackson and Sal Bando on the bench with injuries yesterday, the A's got the most of nine hits from lesser players in a 9-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

It was the crippled A's' fourth victory in a row and elevated them to within a half game of the front-running Chicago White Sox in the division race.

Ray Fosse, struggling with a .214 batting average, drove in two runs in yesterday's victory and such others as Angel Mangual, Ted Kubiak, Deron Johnson and Gaylen Pitts had one run batted in each. Old reliable Joe Rudi shared honors with Fosse by also driving in a pair.

Mangual played right field in place of Jackson, out from a week to 10 days with the eighth hamstring muscle pull of his career, while Kubiak was at third in place of Bando and Pitts at second for Dick Green and assorted others.

The A's, their infield decimated by injuries, called up rookie infielder Pitts from Tucson of the Pacific Coast League yesterday and announced that they have placed veteran infielder Dal Maxvill on the 21-day disabled list.

Maxvill, playing in his second game after signing a free agent contract with the A's Friday, was spiked by Minnesota's

Fresno's Minter Surges To Win At Laguna Seca

Combined AP & UPI

MONTEREY — Milt Minter of Fresno came from the back of the pack yesterday to win the Camel GT Challenge Race over the twisting, hilly Laguna Seca Raceway by 1.07 seconds.

Minter worked his Porsche RSR Carrera through the contenders and exchanged the lead three times in the last three laps of the 100-lap race before edging Horst Kweck of Libertyville, Ill., who piloted a Ford Capri.

"There was nothing I could do about Milt's final charge," Kewck said. "He's very aggressive and one of the best GT car drivers in the world."

Minter was to have started in fourth position but his transmission failed an hour and 15 minutes before the race.

He couldn't get the car fixed until just after the field of 41 other starters rolled onto the track so he settled for the back of the pack.

More Auto Racing

INDIANAPOLIS — A. J. Foyt Saturday captured the front-row pole position for the 58th Indianapolis 500 this Saturday.

NIVELLIS, Belgium — Brazil's Emerson Fittipaldi, in a McLaren, yesterday scored one-half length victory over Niki Lauda to win the Belgian Grand Prix and take the lead in the world driving championship.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Richard Petty, after following Cale Yarborough for most of the race, yesterday finally took the lead and won the $36,000 Music City 420.

Baseball

ATLANTA — The Atlanta Braves announced yesterday that Henry Aaron, baseball's home run king, will join the Braves' front office staff when he retires at the end of the current season.

Track-Field

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Ivory Crockett Saturday set a world record in the 100-yard dash with a time of 9.0 seconds, shaving one-tenth of a second off the 11-year-old record.

Golf

RALEIGH, N.C. — Jo Ann Prentice, with a 36-hole total of 137, yesterday was declared the winner of the rain-shortened $35,000 American Defender Golf Classic when the final round was called due to heavy rains.

HOUSTON — Dave Hill shot yesterday a seven-under-par 65, for a 276 total, and captured the $150,000 Houston Open Golf tournament by one stroke.

Basketball

LONG BEACH — Roscoe Pondexter, who helped Long Beach State's basketball team achieve a 24-2 record last season, Saturday was declared ineligible by school officials for the 1974-75 season.

The ruling was made after it was learned that the 21-year-old star had left on an Amateur Athletic Union tour of Europe and Russia the day before. The tour hasn't been sanctioned by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Hockey

SIMCOE, Ont. — Wayne Maki, 29, a former National Hockey League forward who was involved in 1969 in one of the game's most notorious stick-swinging duels with Ted Green, died yesterday in a Vancouver hospital after a lengthy illness, relatives said here today.

PICTURE OF CONCENTRATION Australian John Newcombe concentrated while returning the ball to Sweden's Bjorn Borg yesterday in the finals of the World Championship Tennis tournament in Dallas. Newcombe rallied to win the $50,000 first prize, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2. (UPI Telephoto)

Boston Coach Is Worried Bruins To Be Devoured

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Boston Coach Bep Guidolin says his Bruins are in danger of being eaten alive by a hungry hockey team—the Philadelphia Flyers.

"This team (the Flyers) gives second effort," Guidolin said after his club's 4-1 loss to Philadelphia yesterday. "We don't, and if we don't, we're in deep trouble.

"The players have got to realize that they have got to work harder to beat this hockey club. They come at you all the time. They're a hungry hockey club."

The ravenous Flyers, now up 2-1 in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup finals, looked loaded for bear yesterday as their forechecking and pressing tactics kept the Bruins from opening up their offensive artillery.

"Other than the first 10 minutes, I thought we played very well," said Philadelphia Coach Fred Shero. "We were doing things wrong in the first period. We weren't as aggressive as we should have been. Instead of sending two men in (to forecheck in the Boston end), we were going with one. After that, we went with two."

The Flyers spotted Boston a goal at 1:03 of the first period on a goal by John Bucyk, celebrating his 39th birthday. But defenseman Tom Blandon gunned in a 35-foot shot at 10:27 and Terry Crisp stole the puck and flicked it by Boston goaltender Gilles Gilbert for a 2-1 edge at 15:43.

Rookie Orest Kindrachuk snapped his fifth goal of the playoffs past Gilbert early in the third period and Ross Lonsberry applied the crusher at 14:19.

"That's our game," said Kindrachuk, "just keep pushing and pushing, just keep on skating, six goals up or six goals down."

"Philadelphia outhustled us in every department," said Guidolin. "We weren't knocking anybody down and we were giving them too much time."

Guidolin complained that only six of his Bruins "gave us a second effort" but he singled out Wayne Cashman and Gregg Sheppard as two who played fine games.

Flyer goalie Bernie Parent was called upon to make few tough saves after the first 10 minutes of the game as Philadelphia effectively muzzled the Bruins' scoring punch and eliminated Boston's power play as an effective weapon.

Tony Oliva in the sixth inning of a game Saturday won by the A's 4-1. Twenty stitches were required to close the wound.

Also, left-hander Dave Hamilton pitched seven strong innings to gain his first victory. He allowed five hits and an unearned run while he was in there and Paul Lindblad finished up, allowing a solo homer to Bob Darwin.

"Depth is what wins ball games," said Manager Alvin Dark. "With all these injuries the other players are trying a little bit harder. Maybe one of these days, we'll be able to get our regular lineup in there."

The A's did most of their damage yesterday against Petaluma's Joe Decker, touching him for five hits and five runs in less than five innings. They picked up three more runs off Ray Corbin and one off Bill Campbell.

A pair of errors, one by Hamilton, helped the Twins to an unearned run in the seventh and Darwin homered in the eighth.

IN PREP TENNIS

Sabella, Greene On To Concord

Mark Sabella and Bob Greene will be going to Concord on Saturday with some pretty good credentials.

The doubles tennis team from San Rafael High School qualified for the North Coast Section tournament by defeating last year's NCS champions in Saturday's Marin County Athletic League playoffs.

Sabella and Greene defeated Mark Strasser and Grant Grinnell of Redwood, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, in the semi-finals, before actually clinching the berth with a 6-1, 6-7, 7-2 triumph over Gene Lachelt and Mark Van Pelt of Drake in matches at San Rafael's courts.

The NCS tourney will be played at Willow Pass tennis courts in Concord Saturday. The MCAL singles representative will be Doug Carlisle of Terra Linda, who was not required to play off with Henry Jacobson of Redwood as reported in Friday's Independent-Journal.

The coach of the team with the best No. 1 singles record may choose the representative. Though Jacobson was unbeaten personally and held a regular-season victory over Carlisle, Terra Linda as a team had only one loss and Redwood had two, giving Trojan coach Chris Ahern the right to pick Carlisle.

San Marin Throttled By Yetter

Reliever Bob Yetter pitched Marin Catholic High School out of a jam in the fifth inning and received a stroke of luck in the sixth as he led the Wildcats to a 5-4 victory over San Marin Saturday night at Albert Field in a Marin County Athletic League baseball game.

San Marin's Chris Purdy tripled in the sixth to drive home the apparent tieing run, but the Mustang baserunner ahead of him missed third base and was out on an appeal play.

Yetter entered in the fifth with the bases loaded and nobody out. He struck out two batters, then saw an infield error allow two runs to score, but ended the inning by picking a runner off third.

Winning Looks So Easy For Reds — Sometimes

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Cincinnati Reds can make winning look so easy—as long as they get pitching.

Most experts think the Reds have the best all-around team in either league and point for proof to such super stars as Johnny Bench, Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Tony Perez, plus border-liners like Dave Concepcion and Dan Driessen.

And yet the Reds have lost two National League playoffs and a World Series in the last four years because of pitching problems. Probably no team in modern times has had more bad luck with promising young pitchers than the Reds except for the "Boys of Summer" Brooklyn Dodgers of the 1950s.

Well, Manager Sparky Anderson had one of those beautiful days yesterday when the Reds got pitching and he was virtually a push-button manager as Cincinnati defeated the Houston Astros, 5-0 and 4-2. Fred Norman tossed a five-hitter in the first game and Clay Kirby allowed only two hits in the second game.

The Los Angeles Dodgers scored six runs in the 13th inning to defeat the San Diego Padres, 15-9, the San Francisco Giants beat the Atlanta Braves, 6-2, after losing, 5-1, the Philadelphia Phillies shaded the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-7, and the Chicago Cubs edged out the New York Mets, 4-3, in other National League games.

Concepcion, Bench and Merv Rettunmund supported Norman's fine pitching in the first game of Cincinnati's sweep while Kirby carried a one-hitter into the ninth before Cesar Cedeno hit a two-run homer for the Astros. Norman struck out nine in the opener and Kirby followed by striking out 10 batters in the second game. Rettenmund also homered in the nightcap for the Reds.

Dodgers 15 Padres 9

Steve Garvey's tie-breaking single sparked a six-run 13th inning which carried the Dodgers to their victory after the Padres tied the score at 9-9 with a six-run seventh-inning outburst.

Phillies 8 Pirates 7

The Phillies scored their third straight victory over the Pirates and stretched their winning streak to four games as Del Unser drove in three runs and Mike Anderson hit a two-run homer.

Cubs 4 Mets 3

George Mitterwald singled home pinch-runner Matt Alexander in the bottom of the ninth to give the Cubs their win over Tom Seaver, the NL Cy Young Award winner of 1973 who is now 1-4 for 1974.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

McRae Making Good

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Hal McRae is making the Kansas City Royals look pretty good in their decision not to sign Orlando Cepeda to a contract this spring.

The Royals had a chance to get Cepeda, the top designated hitter in the American League last season, when the big slugger was let go by the Boston Red Sox during spring training. But McRae had such a good spring that the Royals felt he was the man for the designated hitter assignment, and so far he hasn't let them down.

The 27-year-old McRae, who batted a disappointing .234 with Kansas City last season after hitting .264 and .278 in successive seasons with the Cincinnati Reds, is off to a rousing start with a .359 batting average that includes five home runs and 22 runs batted in.

Yesterday he played an instrumental role in the Royals' doubleheader sweep of the California Angels. In the opener he collected three hits, including the game-winning single in the ninth inning, to spark a 3-2 victory and in the nightcap he contributed a two-run double during a five-run eighth inning that produced a 5-2 triumph.

In other American League games, Oakland routed Minnesota 9-2, Boston edged Detroit 4-3 in 10 innings, Chicago nipped Texas 5-4 and Milwaukee took two from New York, 7-3 and 5-1. The second game was called in the bottom of the eighth because of rain. A doubleheader between Baltimore and Cleveland also was rained out.

Tigers 4, Red Sox3

White Sox 5, Rangers 4

Wilbur Wood and Cy Acosta combined on an eight-hitter in pitching the White Sox to a victory over the Rangers.

Brewers 7, 5 Yankees 3, 1

Veteran Clyde Wright and rookie Kevin Kobel once again proved the Yankees vulnerability to lefthanded pitching by hurling complete game victories. Wright scattered nine hits in the opener to win his fourth game and Kobel allowed only three hits in the seven innings plus he worked in the nightcap to gain his first major league win.

Earthquakes Show They're A Good Team

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The San Jose Earthquakes, an expansion team in the North American Soccer League, are for real.

Saturday night, before a near-capacity home opening crowd of 15,678, they won their second game of the season in as many starts by beating the Kyle Rote Jr.-led Dallas Tornado 4-3.

Paul Child, with two, and Archie Roboostoff and Mani Hernandez, with one each, scored the San Jose goals. Rote, Ilija Mitic and Albert Jackson booted the Tornado goals.

The Quakes next play on Saturday, hosting St. Louis.

Yugoslavia To Russia's Davis Cup Netters

CAIRO (UPI) — Yugoslavia defeated Egypt, 3-2, today in the quarterfinals of European Zone B Davis Cup tennis competition when Zeljko Franulovic beat Egypt's Ali Daoudi 6-2, 7-5, 6-3.

Yugoslavia thus qualified to meet the Soviet Union in the semifinals next July.

Franulovic's victory offset teammate Nikki Pilic's temper outburst on Sunday, when Pilic stormed off the court and defaulted to Ismail El Shafei.

Pilic and Shafai had slugged it out for 5½ hours. The Yugoslav, who precipitated last year's Wimbledon boycott, and the Egyptian had split the first four sets and were even in the fifth. At that point, Pilic protested a point awarded to Shafei and walked off the court. The referee immediately awarded the match to the Egyptian.

Stadium Use

SEATTLE (UPI) — The University of Washington Regents have authorized use of Husky Stadium by Washington State for its football game next fall with Ohio State.

IN CONTRACTUAL BATTLE

Bengals, WFL Await Decision

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Officials of the Cincinnati Bengals and the World Football League today awaited a decision in their federal court battle.

Workers in the clerk's office of the U.S. District Court here said a ruling from Judge David S. Porter was likely today.

The Bengals seek a preliminary injunction to prevent the WFL from signing any of its players to future contracts.

Cincinnati took the new league to court after star middle linebacker Bill Bergey signed a contract to jump to the WFL's Virginia Ambassadors in 1976. The Bengals also want that contract rescinded.

Twelve days ago a Texas State judge granted the Dallas Cowboys a temporary injunction against the WFL in a similar case. However, the Bengals-WFL case was heard in a higher court which could give the decision more impact as a precedent-setter.

Porter heard a full week of testimony in the case and then after listening to another session of closing arguments, devoted three days last week exclusively to studying the case.

The main thrust of the Cincinnati legal argument was that having players around who were going to jump would hurt the morale of the club and make it less effective. The Bengals also argued it was unfair to spend several seasons "molding" a player and then allow the WFL to sign them when they've reached their peak.

Several Bengal players testified they had been in contact with WFL teams. Head Coach and General Manager Paul Brown testified the team would be "decimated" if several players jumped.

The WFL countered that the Bengals and National Football League were unfairly trying to monopolize and "lock up" players. WFL attorney George Moscarino sought to show that the NFL players were seeking out the new league, not the other way around. He argued the players only wanted to work in an "open marketplace."

Moscarino also said Brown himself had "raided" the Canadian Football League for signed players in 1955.

On the witness stand, Brown admitted the raid, but said, "I was wrong. It was 20 years ago and I learned it was wrong to sign a football player who is under contract to another team. In a general sort of way I kind of figured that was what this hearing was all about."

Driver Ramsier 3rd At Antioch Speedway

ANTIOCH — Gary Ramsier of San Rafael finished third in the 20-lap main event won by Pittsburgh's Bill Brown Saturday in NASCAR hardtop auto racing at the Antioch Speedway.

Larry Schlee of Petaluma won a heat race and the trophy dash. Elsewhere, Novato's Gary Peterson won the six-lap consolation race in NASCAR supermodified racing at San Jose Speedway.

Marin Lacrosse Club Tops Davis

The Marin Lacrosse Club finished its season with a 4-5 record by defeating Davis yesterday, 13-1, in a non-league game at Mill Valley Middle School, as Chris Smith scored four goals for Marin.

SONOMA SLATE

Baseball Season Winds Up

A disappointing baseball season will end this week for Southern Sonoma County high school teams, with only two schools having an outside chance for a championship.

St. Vincent (7-2) was scheduled to meet North Central League II leader Kelseyville (8-0) today at 3:30 p.m. in Petaluma. If the Mustangs beat Kelseyville today, they could gain a share of the title if the Indians then lose to Calistoga (5-4).

Rancho Cotate (7-4) is two games behind Piner of Santa Rosa (9-2) in the Sonoma County League race, but could cut that deficit to one tomorrow when it hosts the Prospectors. If the Cougars lose to Piner, they would be eliminated.

Following the Piner game, the Cougars meet Healdsburg (3-8) there on Wednesday and then finish its season Friday at home against Casa Grande (5-3).

TODAY

Baseball — Petaluma at Vallejo, 3:30 p.m.; Kelseyville at St. Vincent, 3:30 p.m.
Tennis — Petaluma at Vallejo, 3:30 p.m.
Golf — Petaluma at Vallejo, 3:30 p.m.

TOMORROW

Baseball — Piner (Santa Rosa) at Rancho Cotate, 3:30 p.m.; Sonoma at Casa Grande, 3:30 p.m.

FORD COURIER: THE GUTSY LITTLE ECONOMY PICKUP.

Courier shown with optional striping, wheel covers and mirrors.

Economical? Yes! But don't think Ford's hot-selling Courier isn't plenty gutsy, too. Courier's extra-husky frame, for example, features box-section side rails anchored by seven crossmembers. The roomy 74.5 in. x 62.2 in. box is all steel, all welded. Uptront, Courier rides on an independent suspension with big coil springs and a stabilizer bar. Rear springs are long, wide . . . with six leaves. There are double acting shocks, front and rear.

And Courier is as comfortable as it is rugged. A roomy cab has excellent visibility and insulated quiet. Courier's wheelbase is a long 104.3 inches to help smooth the ride. There's even an optional dress-up package . . . stripes, wheel covers, mirror, rear step, the works . . . for special sports appeal. And you get all this with an honest payload-and-people capacity of up to 1,400 pounds.

4-cylinder 1800-cc. overhead cam engine has 5 main bearings for rigidity and strength.

DRAMA — Scouts armed with pillows attempt to knock one another from balance beams, a form of combat that attracted clusters of onlookers at Scout-O-Rama. The event Saturday drew thousands of Scouts and spectators.

Thousands Attend Scout-O-Rama

By NELS JOHNSON

Forest Meadows, Dominican College's sylvan park, took on a carnival atmosphere Saturday as thousands of youngsters and adults convened for "Exposition '74," the 10th annual county Scout-O-Rama.

The forest park looked like a Boy Scout boot camp.

Tents were pitched, suspension bridges and towers erected and camping and first aid skills demonstrated by Cubs, Scouts, and Explorers from 69 Marin scouting units.

There were endurance contests, rope climbs, balance beam battles, styrofoam jousting matches, obstacle courses and displays of scouting crafts and skills of every manner and description.

Longest lines gathered at food booths that offered cotton candy, popcorn, ice cream, hot dogs and great quantities of soda pop eagerly gulped down in the baking sun.

Scott Hardie, Scout-O-Rama chairman, predicted at the outset at noon Saturday that 6,000 Scouts and 10,000 visitors would appear for the six-hour event. By midafternoon, perhaps one third that many had walked through the Forest Meadow gates.

Activities of the scouting units were varied.

San Rafael Police Department Law Enforcement Explorer Post 303 commanded one of the slickest displays: a walk-through metal detector, a polygraph demonstration, and exhibits of guns, knives, narcotics and paraphernalia confiscated in police raids. These implements were encased in glass chests.

Terra Linda Boy Scout Troop 76 sponsored an energy conservation exhibit that explained how to recycle newspapers and other wastes, prevent pollution and promote ecology. A highlight of the troop's effort was a huge windmill tower constructed of lashed staves.

Novato Cub Pack 75 conducted a "mystical journey" through a maze of sheds and tents, where visitors were entranced by fortune tellers. One tent, boasting a sign proclaiming "Get your palm red here," housed two cubs who eagerly slapped red paint on the palm of all who entered.

Pack 40 of Tamalpais Valley combined skill and ecology with a "bottle buster" game that proved a hit at last year's Scout-O-Rama. Cubs lined up to roll lead balls down a ramp at bottles, while others read bulletin boards plastered with recycling information.

Other demonstrations and exhibits ranged from a offset duplicating exhibit by Corte Madera Explorer Post 24 and foam jousting contests by Mill Valley Cub Pack 26, to first aid lessons by Larkspur Troop 43 and a sponge battle by Terra Linda Pack 72.

One highlight of the afternoon event was a musical interlude by members of Terra Linda Boy Scout Troop 71. They swung through a weak but noble version of "Hello Dolly" at least four times, the tune apparently being a favorite number.

Explained a junior clarinet player: "We're going to play the same number until we get it right or I'm going to leave. People are watching and I don't want to look like a fool."

Adults who happened by listened to the clarinet, horn, trombone and drum combo with some hilarity.

The crowd was well behaved and mild mannered, although the afternoon did log one scuffle as two energetic Cubs grappled near a stand of trees. The battle over, the two combatants parted smiling, with one of the scouts bursting into tears only after he discovered a friend entrusted with a snow cone had disappeared with the treat.

A team of Explorer Scouts and adults judged the various exhibits, scoring displays on the basis of originality, attractiveness, unit information and spectator interest.

POSTS — 301, Hamilton Field; 303 and Ship 20, San Rafael.

TROOPS — 76, 72, 30, 18, 57, 61, and 39, San Rafael; 40, Tamalpais Valley; 74, Marinwood; 15 and 6, San Anselmo; 50, Sleepy Hollow; 81 and 42, Novato; 34, Mill Valley; 80, Corte Madera and 43, Larkspur.

PACKS — 75 and 26, San Anselmo; 82, 73 and 175, Novato; 40 and 38, Mill Valley; 65, 84, 39 and 36, San Rafael.

For the first time in the 10-year history of the Scout-O-Rama, no unit won overall honors.

Attorneys Told To Get Involved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Court Judge John Sirica says there are too many spectators in America and perhaps too few citizens willing to join the fight for good government.

"We get the kind of government we ask for," said the judge, who has presided at many Watergate-related court hearings.

He told commencement ceremonies for the Washington College of Law at American University that "the faults of governments the world over are caused by the indifferences and failures of the man in the street to play his proper role and meet his responsibility. Good government begins on Main Street."

Disrupt Wildlife

WASHINGTON (AP) —After surveying conservation officials in 31 of the nation's snow states, the National Wildlife Federation reports that the basic problem of the snowmobile's disruptive effect on wildlife has not been solved.

MARIN COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS INVITING SEALED PROPOSAL OR BIDS

Sealed Proposals shall be filed with George H. Gnoss, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Room 315, Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, until 2:00 p.m., May 20, 1974, for:

Phase I realignment of Bon Air Road.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be inspected at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, Room 304, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, and may be purchased for $3.00 per set (non-refundable). Mailed requests shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, P. O. Box 4186, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, 94903. Checks should be made payable to the County of Marin.

Proposals will be opened and read at 2:00 p.m., in Room No. 304-B, Marin County Civic Center, on the day specified above.

The award of the contract, if it be awarded, will be to the lowest responsible bidder whose proposal complies with the requirements prescribed. The award, if made, will be made within thirty (30) days after the opening of the proposals.

The Board of Supervisors has made a determination of the prevailing rate of hourly wages applicable to the work to be performed. Copies of this determination are on file in the office of the County Clerk, Civic Center, Room 315, San Rafael, California, and are available to any interested party upon request. Copies may be obtained from the Department of Public Works, Room 304, Civic Center.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO SELL REAL PROPERTY

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN of the adoption by the Board of Supervisors of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District on the 7th day of May, 1974, of a resolution declaring its intention to dispose of real properties hereinafter described.

Conditions of said sale are as follows:

1) Minimum acceptable price is $26,500.

2) Terms:

Cash or certified check payable to Treasurer, County of Marin, in the amount of ten per cent (10%) of the bid price. All bids must be submitted prior to the time of the hearing.

This Board shall, before accepting any written proposals, call for oral bids. If any responsible person offers to purchase the said parcel upon the terms and conditions specified in this Resolution for a price exceeding by five per cent (5%), or more, the highest written proposal, such highest oral bid will be accepted. No oral bids will be accepted from individuals who have not established their responsibility by submission of a written bid and deposit.

The balance of the successful bid shall be paid within thirty (30) days of the acceptance of the bid, and in the event that it is not so paid, the ten per cent (10%) cash or certified check of the successful bidder shall be declared forfeit.

This Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularities therein.

3) No real estate commission shall be paid by the Flood Control District in connection with said sale.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that a public meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the Marin County Flood Control and Water District will be held at its regular place of meeting, to wit: Board of Supervisors Chambers, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, on the 4th day of June, 1974, at 1:45 o'clock p.m., for public hearing upon said matter, at which time sealed proposals to purchase said property will be received and considered. All written proposals for the purchase of said property must be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District on or before the time and date heretofore set for hearing upon said matter.

The property which is the subject of said sale is located within the City of Novato, County of Marin, State of California, and is described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and incorporated herein. Further information including "Notice to Bidders" and bid form may be obtained in the office of the Department of Public Works, Real Estate Section, Room 304, Civic Center, San Rafael.

Persons interested in the purchase of said property are directed to Section 25363 et seq of the Government Code.

DATED: May 7, 1974

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8 p.m. — During a raid on a gambling ring which is also suspected of drug trafficking, officer Terry Webster is shocked to find his cousin, a recently returned war veteran, among the men apprehended in "Blood Brother," an episode of the police adventure series, "The Mod Squad."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 10:30 p.m. — Six businessmen, seeking relaxation from domestic and professional responsibilities, go off together in a delivery truck on a weekend camp-out and wind up in jail charged with disorderly conduct on the special half-hour comedy presentation, "Shirts/Skins."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 11:30 p.m. — Ed Nelson stars as Lt. Calvin Zenger, who is suddenly faced with the challenge of solving two unconnected murders in one afternoon, in "Police Headquarters," a "Wide World of Entertainment" presentation.

Lindsay Wants Donation Limit

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Lindsay says campaign contributions for all elections should be restricted to $100 a donor, with a $1,000 limit for presidential elections.

The former congressman, whose second term as mayor of New York expired this year, said, "What must end principally is the solicitation of campaign money, the giving and receiving of it. A politician can't help but feel indebtedness to donors.

"That's unhealthy, even allowing for the politician's legitimate obligation to listen very carefully to the wants and needs of thoee who helped him get elected." 4

...caused by inflammation and infection.

Prairie Village, Kan. — Mr. Joseph Sutton reports: "My doctor suggested suppositories. I chose Preparation H suppositories. On a physical check-up my doctor noted how effectively it works."

(Note: Doctors' tests have proved Preparation H® actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation. It's so effective that in many cases, the first applications give prompt, temporary relief from pain and itching in such tissues. There's no other formula like doctor-tested Preparation H.)

Bikers Protest Law On Helmets

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Motorcycle enthusiasts, among them members of groups like the "Hell's Angels," burned a helmet in the state capitol parking lot yesterday to protest a new law requiring them to wear the protective headgear.

The bikers, who came from all over the state, also burned the traffic tickets they got on their way into town for riding without helmets.

Robbery Rise Blamed On Drugs

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit experienced an 11.8 per cent increase in the number of armed robberies during the first four months of 1974, and police have placed the blame on the apparent rise of narcotics users in the city.

Police cited the higher price for narcotics and the high unemployment rate as other reasons for the increase.

While the total armed robbery picture is on the rise, the number of such holdups against banks, bars, cleaners, groceries, party stores and restaurants has shown an even more dramatic increase. Police figures show armed robberies against these establishments have gone up 65 per cent when compared with the same period of 1973.

Dying And Coming Back To Life —Tranquility, Elation, Ecstasy

There are several people in North America who have died and lived to tell.

In 1970, 68-year-old Leslie Sharpe of Toronto was rushed to hospital after his family physician diagnosed a searing pain in his left arm as a heart attack. The next morning Sharpe, lying in bed hooked up to an electrocardiograph and with intravenous tubes stuck in his arm, remembers glancing at his watch. Then he died.

"I suddenly gave a very, very deep sign and my head flopped over to the right," he recalled later. "I thought, why did my head flop over? I didn't move it.

"The I was looking at my own body from the waist up — face to face, as though in a mirror. Almost immediately I saw myself leaving my body, coming out through my head and shoulders.

"The body leaving me was not exactly in vapor form yet it seemed to expand very slightly once it was clear of me.

"My next sensation was of floating in a bright, pale yellow light — a delightful feeling. I continued to float, enjoying the most beautiful, tranquil sensation.

"Then, suddenly, there were sledge hammer blows to my left side. They created no actual pain but jarred me so much that I had difficulty retaining my balance. I began to count them, and when I got to six I said aloud, 'What the hell are you doing to me?' and opened my eyes."

Sharpe recognized doctors and nurses around his bed. They told him he had suffered a cardiac arrest and had just received a series of six electric shocks to start his heart beating normally again.

This case of temporary death was remarkable enough to be reported in the journal of the Candian Medical Association by two Toronto Drs. R. L. MacMillan and K. W. G. Brown. In the report the doctors said: "This could be experience of the soul leaving the body."

Sharpe is not the only member of that unusual fraternity made up of those who have died and returned.

Dr. George Ritchie, a psychiatrist in Charlottersville, Va., told me about his experience of dying.

It happened on December 1943 when Ritchie was a 19-year-old private in the U.S. Army. He was admitted to the hospital at Camp Barkley, Tex., suffering from what the medical records describe as "acute naso-pharyngitis" — a serious nose and throat infection. His condition worsened and was rediagnosed as "severe lobar pneumonia."

In the early hours of Dec. 20, Pvt. George Ritchie died. The attending physician, Dr. Donald G. Francy, recalled that "there was no evidence of respiration or cardiac impulse; the patient had expired and orders were given to the ward attendant to prepare the body for transmission to the morgue."

However, after a period of nine minutes the ward attendant thought he detected slight chest movements in the dead man and summoned the medical officer.

"Adrenalin was administered into the heart," said Francy, "and private Ritchie began to evidence increase in respiration and developed perceptible pulse."

On Jan. 8, 1944 the dead man was discharged from the hospital and shortly after entered the Medical College of Richmond from which eventually he graduated with distinction.

Ritchie's speudodeath — "pseudo" only because it proved to be temporary — was medically puzzling. Francy said: "I personally feel certain that his virtual call from death and return to vigorous health has to be explained in terms of other than natural causes."

He recalls a series of blinding visions (though, being unconscious as he was, he ought to have experienced nothing). "Suddenly I was standing beside the bed," Ritchie told me, "and someone was still lying on the bed I had just left. I stepped closer in the dim light, then drew back. He was dead. The slack jaw, the gray skin were awful. Then I saw the ring. On his left hand was the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity ring I had worn for five years. That was me on the bed!"

But how could there be two of him, one lying gray on the bed and the other feeling strong and well?

"This is death," Ritchie concluded. "This is what we human beings call death, this splitting up of one's self."

There followed a series of shattering images. George Ritchie was engulfed by a dazzling light, the walls of the hospital room dropped away, and he seemed caught up outside time and space.

Then he felt "the walls of the hospital room close around me again, the brilliant light faded, and a strange sleep stole over me. I woke up on the road to recovery.

"To this day I can't fully fathom why I was allowed to return to life. As a physician, I certainly can't explain it. All I know is that when I woke up on that hospital bed it was not a homecoming. There was a nostalgia for the place where I had been."

The nurse who attended George Ritchie during his trip into death, Retta Irvine, said that when he opened his eyes "he told me he knew he had been dead and that he had had an experience that would change his life."

Today specialists in a new branch of medical science called thanatology, literally, the science of dying, says that experiences such as George Ritchie's may provide important clues to the true nature of life's loneliest and least understood experience. One bit of data that emerges from the study of pseudodeath cases is the sense of infinite tranquility, even wellbeing, that usually pervades the experience. The typical dying person feels himself to be not descending into darkness but ascending into light.

A surprising variety of people, including some famous ones, have tasted death twice. Someset Maugham, the British novelist, described how at the age of 80 he sank into what he thought was his final coma.

"I felt myself going," said Maugham. "Time ended. It might have been an hour or a century. The light began to change. To my surprise it did not grow darker but lighter.

"It became iridescent, blinding. I could sense my pulse fading and my heartbeat slowing and still the light increased in intensity. And then, and then, the most exquisite sense of release. A great final orgasm. A giving up of the whole being."

Maugham was hauled back from the brink by an injection and lived more than 10 more years. But he never forgot the profound impression his first death had made on him.

Author Ernest Hemingway, as a youth of 19, was serving in the armed forced in Italy during World War I when about midnight, on July 8, 1918, he was in a trench near the village of Fosealta and an Austrian mortar shell exploded nearby.

"I felt as if my soul were coming right out of my body," Hemingway told his friend Guy Hickok, European correspondent for the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, "like you'd pull a silk handkerchief out of a pocket by one corner. It flew around and then came back in and I wasn't dead any more."

As it was, Hemingway received serious wounds in the explosion. Later he used this experience in his novel, A Farewell to Arms, when his hero, Frederick Henry, is in a trench and a shell hits and Henry describes how "I felt myself rush bodily out of myself and out and out and out and all the time bodily. And I knew I was dead and that it had been a mistake to think you just died. And then I felt myself slide back and I was back."

The great psychiatrist, Dr. Carl Jung, died and returned and ever after looked back on the experience as the most profound and wonderful of his life.

It was in 1944 and Jung suffered a heart attack and died. While being revived by the doctor's frantic injections, Jung participated in a drama of cosmic dimensions. He was transported far above the earth, he said, and hung suspended in space. Below he saw the globe "bathed in gloriously blue light," the continents unrolling like a vast multi-hued carpet. Off to one side, Jung saw a magnificent templelike edifice and he was about to enter an illuminated room therein where he would meet, he sensed, "all those to whom I belonged in reality."

He felt that "the whole phantasmagoria of terrestrial existence would be stripped from me" and that he was about to penetrate the riddle of existence.

At that moment an image floated up from Europe. It was Jung's doctor, pleading with him to return. Thereupon, the vision faded. But when Jung opened his eyes in his sick room and realized he was alive it was not joy he felt.

"The world struck me as a prison," he said, "and a painful nostalgia for the glorious place I had visited haunted me for weeks." Jung rejected the notion that his experience was fantasy or hallucination.

"The experience was utterly real," he said. "It had the quality of absolute objectivity.

"I can describe it as ecstasy — a state in which present, past and future are one. Beyond time, beyond longing.

" 'This is eternal bliss,' I thought. 'This is too wonderful even to be described.' "

A New York psychologist, Dr. Karlis Osis, is making a cross-cultural study of death and dying to find out if there are similarities that carry over from one culture to another.

Amana gives you a choice

If you want your zero degree freezer on the side, there's the Amana Side-by-Side. Or you can have it on the top or the bottom. They're all Free-O-Frost in both the refrigerator and freezer.

And every Amana has two independent temperature controls, one for the freezer, one for the refrigerator. There's a "refrigerator-within-a-refrigerator" that keeps meat fresh up to twice as long as an ordinary meat keeper. And a high-humidity compartment that keeps vegetables fresh up to three weeks.

Come and look at the choices Amana has for you. Then choose the one you want from gold, avocado, coppertone or white.

What About Alcohol If Discovered Today?

By FRANK FARRARA

"If alcohol were discovered today, there is no way it could be marketed," according to Dr. Robert G. O'Briant, director of the Garden Sullivan Alcoholism Program in San Francisco.

It wouldn't pass federal standards, he told a conference on alcohol abuse Saturday at the College of Marin. Nevertheless, "we like it. It's very popular. . .a big seller. . .and as a society, we accept it," he said.

For some a drink is the reward at the end of a day's work, "when friends call, they say, come in, 'have a drink,' and fellow workers say 'let's have one'. . .we're group drinkers."

Some jobs permit drinking and in some cases, "the cocktail party is part of employment," he said. "There is a continual message to drink, a continual reminder that alcohol is good and the advertisements are seductive, misleading and dangerous."

The advertisements that connect drinking alcohol with being "happy, successful and sexy are a far cry from the truth," he said.

The problem of alcoholism affects all aspects of life, family job, social activities and the self esteem of the alcoholic, he said. Therefore, rehabilitation must involve all these things, he said.

More than 200 persons, professionals and laymen, attended the conference which stressed treatment, education and alternatives to alcohol abuse.

Ronald L. Linder, assistant professor of health education, San Francisco State University, described the United States as neither a "wet or dry" society, but a "moist" one.

Americans have conflicting values and haven't any unitary view toward alcohol, he said. As an example, he showed a national magazine with a lead story on alcoholism that contained 14 full-page ads promoting drinking.

Many countries have national alcohol policies and "that makes it easier to know what is right and what is wrong," he said. As a nation, the United States had prohibition and then it was repealed, he remarked.

"Parents tell their kids that pot leads to heroin, but alcohol is good," Linder said.

Children say they "feel like adults" when their parents let them smoke, let them listen when they are telling dirty jokes and let them drink," he said. "This," Linder described, as "allowing people to identify adult roles with using alcohol."

Dr. Charles E. Becker, chief of the San Francisco General Hospital, detoxification unit, the opening speaker, said alcoholism has reached "epidemic proportions" in the military service.

"The military is encouraging alcoholism . . . expanding the Happy Hour to include lunch, and offering drinks inexpensively," he said.

He told of the economic loss, about $15 billion annually, from alcoholism, the shortened life span of the alcoholic. . .10 to 12 years, the 55,500 auto deaths annually.

At one of the workshops, Dr. Donald J. Kubitz of the Santa Clara County Alcoholism Division, told of using acupuncture to treat alcoholics and claimed 81 per cent success. Of 16 persons treated, nine stopped drinking and four continued with controlled drinking, "one or two drinks," he said.

Through acupuncture the patients achieved the same psychological states, tranquility, harmony and peace, and physical states, drops in blood pressure, pulse rate and breathing rate, achieved in yoga and transcendental meditation, he said.

In China, acupuncture has halted the withdrawal symptoms, "the shakes" afflicting alcoholics, he said.

In another room, Kent Little, educational consultant, Contra Costa County Alcohol Information and Rehabilitation Services, told of his approach to teaching pupils, kindergarten through eighth grade about alcohol.

In the early grades, "I stress two things," Little said. "one, alcohol is a drug, and two, most alcohol ads are false."

On a table he had several items sold "in school supply sections" of stores. . .a T-shirt with a beer advertisement on the front, a mug, trash can and thermos with beer company labels on them and a hat with a beer company label as the design.

Little said, "I tell them, if they wear the T-shirt, they're giving the company free advertising. I don't tell them alcohol is good or bad, but it depends on how you use it."

The conference was sponsored by the Marin Alcohol Information Committee. Russ Coughlan, general manager, KGO-TV, was master of ceremonies at the opening session.

Cuban Magazine Office Blasted

MIAMI (UPI) — The offices of Cuban exile magazine "Replica" were dynamited early today in what police sources said was a continuation of political unrest in Miami's "Little Havana" section.

He said damage to the door, awning and the office inside was extensive.

There are a few things the chart doesn't tell you. So we will:

We have the only direct Nightcoach flights to New York and Chicago. And the only Nightcoach service out of Oakland.

We also have the earliest arrival time to New York (both LaGuardia and Newark).

Flights can be nonstop, through, or connecting.

All savings are based on regular coach fares. And all fares include tax, but not the nominal airport security fee that all airlines charge. You can charge your flight on your American Airlines Vacation Credit Card.

We have other low-cost fares besides Nightcoach.

For Nightcoach reservations, call your Travel Agent or American. The number in San Francisco is 433-2000, in Oakland: 834-7353, in San Jose: 287-6670, in Palo Alto: 368-2915.
